HARD-PRESSED MEASURES OF WILSON HAVE FAILED

CONGRESS ADJOURNS AFTER RAPID WORK

Impressive Scenes of Farewell Mark End of Historic Session of National Law-Makers.

PRESIDENT WILSON ON CONGRESS AND ITS WORK.

Washington, March 4.—After his return to the white house President Wilson dictated the following statement about congress and its work:

"A great congress has closed its session. Its work will prove the purpose and quality of its statesmanship, more and more, the longer it is tested. Business has now a time of calm and thoughtful adjustment before it, disturbed only by the European war. The circumstances created by the war put the nation to a special test, a test of its true character and of its self-control.

"The constant thought of every patriotic man should be for the country, its peace, its order, its just and tempered judgment in the face of perplexing difficulties. Its difficulty and its strength alike will appear not only in the revival of its business, despite abnormal conditions, but also in its power to think to purpose and to act with patience, with disinterested fairness and without excitement, in a spirit of friendliness and enlightenment which will firmly establish its influence throughout the world."

Washington, March 4.—Congress adjourned today sine die. The senate adjourned at 12:04 and the house adjourned at 12:18 p. m.

The total appropriations of the sessions were approximately $1,120,484,324, several millions under the record of previous congresses.

Two appropriation bills failed. Current appropriations for the postal service and the Indian office were extended for another year.

In the closing hours, President Wilson signed the seaman's bill, the neutrality resolution empowering him to prevent ships leaving American ports with supplies for belligerent warships, promoted Col. Goethals to be a major general for his services as builder of the Panama canal and a promotion to other officers associated with the work.

Fell by the Wayside.
The administration ship bill, the Philippine bill, the conservation bills, the rural credits provision of the agricultural bill and ratification of the treaties with Colombia and Nicaragua—all hard pressed administration measures—fell by the wayside.

In the senate several members long prominent national figures—among them Senators Root and Burton, stepped back into private life as the curtain fell. In the house, Democratic Leader Underwood said good bye, to sit in the next senate and three score or more members retired.

For many minutes before adjournment there was a lull in the senate. Absolutely no business was transacted.

Official Text of German Reply is Now Made Public

Washington, March 4.—The official text of the German government's reply to the American note suggesting that Germany and Great Britain agree on a plan to lessen danger to neutral shipping in the war zone, was made public here today. It follows:

"The imperial German government has taken note with great interest of the suggestion of the American government that certain principles for the conduct of maritime warfare between Germany and England be agreed upon for the protection of neutral shipping. They see therein new evidence of the friendly feeling of the American government toward the German government which are fully reciprocated by Germany.

"It is in accordance with Germany's wishes also to have maritime war conducted according to rules which without discriminatingly restricting one or the other of the belligerent powers in the use of their means of warfare are equally considerate of the interests of neutrals and the dictates of humanity. Consequently it was intimated in the German note of the sixteenth instant that observation of the declaration of London on the part of Germany's adversaries would create a new situation in which the German government would gladly draw the proper conclusions.

Proceeding from this view the German government has carefully examined the suggestion of the American government and has concluded that it can accept the principles suggested by it."

Say Words of Farewell.

Senator Simmons paid a tribute to Senator Perkins, of California, who retired at noon. Senator Perkins sat for a moment in contemplation of the tribute. Then he slowly half rose from his seat, feelingly waved his hand toward the North Carolina senator and his colleagues in a gesture of farewell, and then took his seat, again too overcome with emotion to speak.

Senator Gallinger offered a resolution of thanks to Vice President Marshall for his services as presiding officer of the senate.

Tributes to Colleagues.

The last hour in the house was devoted to tributes to Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood and Republican Leader Mann.

Representative Palmer announced the presentation of a portrait of Mr. Underwood to be hung in the hall of the ways and means committee. In doing so Mr. Palmer said: "There is no doubt Mr. Underwood soon will be the leader in the senate. He is one of the greatest Americans in his time."

WILL DEDICATE NEW STATUARY ON SUNDAY

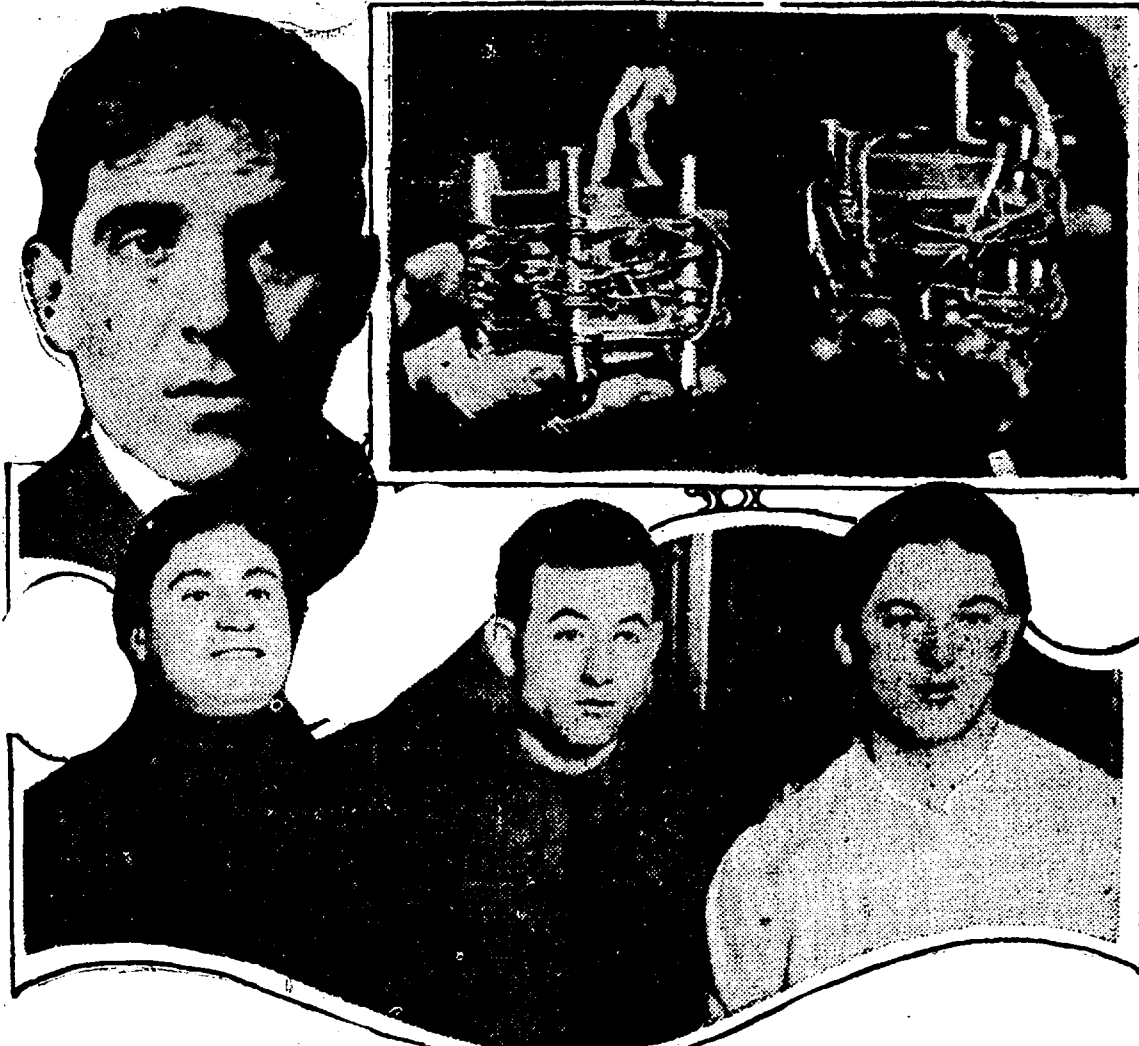

St. Paul's Church is Given
Memorial to Late I.
Freiburger.

The interior of the St. Paul's Catholic church has been thoroughly renovated and the walls and ceiling have been redecorated and on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. Father Kroll, pastor of the congregation will conduct special services when the new statuary will be dedicated. The new statuary includes a large figure of the Sorrowful Mother of Christ, presented to the church by the Freiburg family in commemoration of the late Ignatius Freiburg, a new baptismal font, and new holywater receptacles.

The statue is made of a composition which resembles marble in all respects and is eleven feet high and stands on a pedestal four by six feet in size and was made by a firm in Chicago. The coloring was done by the famous Munich artists in Chicago and is considered one of the most beautiful pieces of work ever put out by the firm. The baptismal font and the holy water receptacles are made of the same material as the statue.

The scene that is portrayed is the one which is related in the bible when the body of Jesus was taken from the cross, previous to burial and was laid in the arms of his mother, Mary.

NEW YORK ANARCHIST'S BOMB PLOT — FIGURES IN FRUSTRATED SCHEME TO WRECK ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH AND KILL MILLIONAIRES.

to right are Patrick Walsh, Jerome Murphy and James Starrett. Walsh and Starrett were disguised as scrubwomen and Murphy as a church usher when Frank Abarno entered the cathedral for 7 o'clock mass. He was smoking a cigar and carried two bombs in his hands. Reaching the front of the church he deposited the bombs, touched the lighted cigar to the fuses and was about to leave the church. But the detectives were on him in a moment and took him to the station house. His arrest revealed an anarchist plot to kill the wealthy men. Abarno is pictured above at left. Above at right are the two bombs.

Rumor That a Modern Office
Building Will Replace Old Structure.

After negotiations pending for several weeks, Mayor Spohn, of Goshen, closed a deal Wednesday with Charles S. Bash for the purchase of the old bank block at Main and Court streets, for a consideration said to have been $80,000.

According to statements made by Mayor Spohn before returning to his home in Goshen, he intends to convert the structure into a modern office building. A number of improvements are contemplated, it is understood, which will greatly improve the appearance of that part of Fort Wayne's business section.

For several weeks the deal for the purchase of the building has been pending, but not until Wednesday were the necessary papers signed cinching it.

An Old Landmark.
The old bank building is one of Fort Wayne's landmarks and is within 100 feet of the Allen county court house. The property consists of five business rooms and a roof garden and is now fully tenanted. It is regarded as one of the finest business property propositions

BAD BANKING ALONE CAUSED BANK CRASH

Washington, March 4.—Comptroller Williams in a formal statement today declared bad management was the cause of the failure of the German National Bank of Pittsburgh. He announced that the capital and surplus of the bank have been wiped out but that it is too early to forecast how much will be paid to depositors.

"The failure of the German National bank of Pittsburgh," Mr. Williams' statement read, "has no significance as bearing on the general business situation, but again illustrates the truth of the saying that 'The way of the transgressor is hard.' The failure was not caused by a run, but by a persistent disregard for the principles of sound banking."

BULLETIN.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 4.—After almost two hours debate, it was decided to pass the Van Auker compromise primary bill by the democratic senate caucus this afternoon. The vote was 23 to 4 and was taken after five senators had bolted, declaring they would not be bound by the caucus action. The four who voted against the bill are Senators Gubertson, McCormick, Faulkner and Humphries. It was said that the rules would be suspended and the measure rushed through the senate this afternoon and sent to the house.

Lagrange Senator Refuses to Be Bound by Primary Law Action.

Indianapolis, March 4.—Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon Senator Ballou, who is leading the direct primary forces during the illness of Senator Rinear, left the democratic senate caucus declaring he would not be bound by any action the caucus might take on the primary law and told the members what he thought of them for bolting the democratic state platform.

He declared that he had asked Lieut. Gov. O'Neill several times to hand down the primary bill this morning and that the lieutenant governor had said he would, but didn't do it.

Mr. Ballou said the direct primary bill had sufficient supporters, backed by the republicans, to defeat any bill that might be reported by the caucus, if it did not fulfill the party platform pledge.

FLOOD DANGER AGAIN NEARS.

Arkansas River is Rising at Very Rapid Rate.

Fort Smith, Ark., March 4.—The government weather bureau announced today that the Arkansas river here would reach a stage of 22 feet—the flood stage—by tomorrow night. The river is rising two inches an hour and has risen four and one-half feet in the last 24 hours. Rain continues to fall and it is reported that snow and rain is falling along the entire Arkansas water shed.

Chicago, March 4.—The testimony of W. J. Lauck, dealing with the alleged over capitalization of railroad companies continued before the board of arbitration in the western railroad case today. He dealt particularly with affairs of the Frisco system, which he said was foredoomed to a receivership by reason of the alleged excessive price paid for the system by the Missouri Pacific.

Chambers Declares State
Printers Guilty of Improper Lobbying.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 4.—With the adjournment of the legislature only three days off, Senator Chambers' resolution calling for an investigation of alleged violations of the anti-lobby law was adopted immediately following its introduction in the upper house today. A joint committee, it is provided, shall conduct the inquiry and is given power to summon witnesses.

The resolution was introduced following an attack made by Senator Chambers on the present state printers, whom he said have been guilty of improper lobbying against the Chambers bill to classify state printing and let contracts to more than one printer.

Four Sent to Governor.

Business in the house consisted of the passage of four measures providing flood relief, which were sent to the governor, they already having been passed by the senate. In the senate the same workmen's compensation bill, which was made a caucus measure last night and which was to have been handed down the first thing this morning, was held over until afternoon while minor business was disposed of.

After an hour's recess at noon the senate democrats went into caucus to

Chicago, March 4.—Wheat prices made a sudden downward plunge today in the last fifteen minutes of trading. Reports were current that millions of dollars worth of orders for war supplies, mostly arms and ammunition, had been cancelled in the last 48 hours. Although confirmation of the reports was lacking the market broke to a point 7 1/2¢ under last night, the May delivery touching $1.37 today, as against $1.44 1/2¢ the same option 24 hours previous. FIFTY WARSHIPS MAKING DARDANELLES AN INFERNO

ALL TRIPLE ENTENTE FLAGS NOW IN FIGHT

Russian Cruiser Joins French and English
Sea Fighters Battering Way to Constantinople.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The official German statement of today says that French attacks in the west were repulsed easily. The French statement asserts that violent assaults by the Germans were defeated. North of Arras near the Belgian border, the Germans captured positions of the allies which they say were nearly a mile in extent.

Russian attacks near the Prussian border are said by the Germans to have failed. The German efforts to capture Ossowetz have resulted in a violent battle with no decision yet in sight.

More than fifty warships of the allies, now including a Russian cruiser, are now engaged in the effort to batter a way through the Dardanelles for the capture of Constantinople.

London, March 4.—(12:28 p. m.)—The interest of British readers in the Russian campaign has again shifted to the extreme southern portion of the line of battle, where Petrograd reports that Gen. Brussiloff has won a noteworthy victory south of Baligrad, inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians who were again pressing north to the relief of Przemyel.

At the same time an unofficial dispatch from Bucharest credits the Russian forces with the re-occupation of Sianian, in Galicia, about 60 miles from Tarnopol.

Vienna reports the repulse of desperate Russian counter attacks in the Carpathians, with comparative inactivity along the remainder of the line.

On the western battle front, in France and Belgium, the French now appear to be content to hold the positions they claim to have won in the Champagne district.

Shelling Turkish Position.

While the British battleships are battering fort number 8 and fort number 9, in the narrows of the Dardanelles from a point ten miles within the entrance of the straits French warships from the gulf of Saros are bombarding the Turkish positions at Bulair.

A report has been current in London that certain big Krupp guns recently sent to the Dardanelles are still unmounted, and an aerial reconnaissance made over the straits last evening seems to have confirmed this report.

Show All Entente Colors.

The battleships of the allies, which now show all the colors of the Triple Entente by the addition of the Russian cruiser Askold, undoubtedly have turned the straits of the Dardanelles into an inferno, which according to British and French claims, has spelled destruction to the Turkish defenses.

On the other hand, reports from Constantinople deride this activity as ineffective. The Turks, however, do admit the destruction of the outer forts which they say they expected but they declare the inner works impregnable. The Turks rely on mines, but mine sweepers of the allies have been busy within a mile or a half of the forts, destroying a Turkish mine-field detected by a sharp eyed aviator.

Over Fifty Ships in Fleet.

Among other reinforcements, which are said now to make the fleet of the Dardanelles number over fifty ships is the British battleship Canopus, last heard of as anchored off the Falkland islands. In the Falkland islands fight the Canopus fired the first shot at the German squadron under the command of Admiral von Spee. The only craft either French or British that has been compelled to withdraw from the action is the British torpedo boat destroyer Zephyr, built 20 years ago.

In the political field it would appear that other neutrals are awaiting the lead of the United States before embarking on any course of action imposed by Premier Asquith's announcement of the retaliatory policy of the allies. Meanwhile British newspapers are expressing some uneasiness because of the unfavorable impression the premier's an-

POLICE WORKING ON MANY OTHER PLOTS

Arrests Do Not Clear Up
Anarchist Menace in New York.

New York, March 4.—The existence of many plots on which the police have been working was made known today in a statement by Arthur Wood, police commissioner, in commenting on the indictment by the grand jury of Frank Abarno and Charles Carbone charged with attempting to explode a bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral on Tuesday.

Commissioner Wood said that so far as this case is concerned it does not go beyond Abarno and Carbone but that there were other plots and other men which the police were watching. The commissioner indicated that Amedeo Polignani the young patrolman responsible for the arrest of Abarno and Carbone, would have a part in exposing other bomb plots.

Justification for placing the bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral was summed up by Abarno when arraigned yesterday with the brief statement that: "We wanted to put a bomb in some rich neighborhood so that the rich would understand the sorrows of the poor."

"I plead guilty to the act," Abarno said when asked to plead. "But I did not mean to do any harm. I was there but it was all the idea of this other man," referring to Polignani, the patrolman. Carbone entered a plea of not guilty.

District Attorney Perkins stated today that he would move to have Abarno and Carbone tried as soon as possible. The men will be brought into court again tomorrow when their pleas will be formally entered and counsel assigned to them if they have not made other arrangements for their defense before that time.

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—Another bill which would permit boxing in this state was introduced in the house today by Representative "Babe" Sauter, of Chicago. The bill would allow the game to be fought in the state of Illinois.

SNOW, RAIN, SLEET COVER A WIDE AREA

Kansas City, Mo., March 4.—Snow, rain and sleet fell last night and today over most of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma and parts of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana according to the local weather bureau. The snow, coming in the northern states ranged in depth from two inches in Kansas City to nine inches in central Kansas and eleven inches in North Platte, Neb.

A driving wind from the northeast accompanied the storm in most sections causing the snow to drift and tearing down telegraph and telephone poles, greatly hampering wire and rail communication. Street car traffic in several cities was also interfered with.

ASQUITH REFUSES TO THROW FURTHER LIGHT

London, March 4.—(3:45 p. m.)—Premier Asquith declined today to throw further light on the nature of the measures to be taken by Great Britain and allies in pursuance of their announced intention of continuing the trade to and from Germany. Speaking in the house, the premier said that the government had decided to continue the trade to and from Germany.

Mrs. McKinzie Says That Herbal
Lax-a-Tone Restored Her Strength and Quickly Too.

Have you noticed, said the Herb Lax-a-Tone man at Dreier Drug Co., 526 Calhoun street, that I am publishing names of people right here in Fort Wayne and not in some far off city. It is to show the people here that they can investigate our claims.

Mr. D. McKinzie, whose address is box No. 11, R. F. D. 10, says that his wife was in a run down condition and needed a tonic to pick her up. She had tried many different preparations, but could get no results at all, but was surprised at the results she received from Herbal Lax-a-Tone, the first bottle done her more good than all the others combined.

If you have stomach trouble, indigestion with sour stomach belching gas, bloating, headache, nervousness, constipation, lack of energy, biliousness and sore back with weak kidneys, try this great tonic.

INCREASES SCOPE OF WILSON'S POWER

Resolution Gives President
New Check on Neutrality Violations.

Washington, March 4.—All that was needed today to enlarge the power of President Wilson to prevent violations of American neutrality by vessels leaving United States ports with men or supplies for belligerent warships was the president's approval of a joint resolution of congress. The resolution, a substitute for that previously passed by the house, was unanimously adopted by the senate early today following a conference at the white house last night between President Wilson and members of the foreign relations committee of the senate and house and others. It was later agreed to by the house and today only awaited President Wilson's signature to make it a law.

As finally passed the resolution differs in some essential particulars from the original house measure. It has the hearty support of state department officials who pointed out the immediate need of its passage because of the "critical situation" resulting from the European war.

The resolution becomes effectively up on being signed by the president and will continue during the existence of the European war. The resolution empowers the president to direct customs collectors to withhold clearance from any vessel of American or foreign register or license which the president believes "about to carry fuel, arms, ammunition, men or supplies to any at-risk, or tender, or supply ship of a belligerent nation in violation of the obligations of the United States as a neutral nation."

If such a vessel sailed or attempted to sail without clearance a fine of from $2,000 to $10,000, imprisonment of two years, or both, and for failure the vessel would be imposed. The president is empowered to use the military forces of the country to enforce the law.

LITTLE HOPE LEFT FOR ENTOMBED MEN

But Miners' Friends Eagerly Await News from the Rescue Crews.

Hinton, W. Va., March 4.—High up on Quinimont mountain scores of anxious persons, the families and friends of the miners entombed by the explosion in Layland mine last Tuesday, still waited anxiously today for news from the rescue crews. They knew in a general way the main entry of mine had been cleared of afterdamp and the rescuers were gradually working their way through cross entries and rooms in search of bodies, but with what success they were kept in ignorance. There was a rush toward the shattered opening of the mine when word came that five more bodies had been found, and a rumor spread that other bodies had been located and likely could be brought out before evening. Eight bodies will be brought here for burial tonight.

There was still much confusion as to the number of men who entered Tuesday morning. After canvassing the situation the company made known the names of 177 who were employed in the workings effected. Whether all of them were at work when the explosion occurred officers of the company admitted they were unable to say, but the opinion prevailed that perhaps 20 had escaped the disaster.

Little hope is now entertained that any of the buried men are still alive. Engineers of the bureau of mines and state mining departments have found evidence that the explosion was very violent and the entries badly choked with debris.

The rescue parties made rapid progress during the morning and fresh air was forced far into the workings. At noon it was announced that 35 bodies had been recovered and it was thought that rapid progress in exploring the mine would be made during the afternoon. A strong force of deputy sheriffs kept back the crowds.

NEW YORK CITY FLAG LIKE FLAG OF 1626

New York, March 4.—A new city flag chosen by the municipal art commission which is the same except for a few minor changes, as the banner that floated over the Island of Manhattan when in 1626 New Amsterdam was settled by the Dutch. At present the city has a white flag bearing the city seal in dark blue. It never was officially adopted and has been objected to as lacking distinction and historical association. The new flag is orange white and blue arranged in perpendicular bars of equal dimension bearing the seal of the city in blue upon the middle or white bar.

HOT CONTEST OVER WILL IS SETTLED

Superior Court Holds Will of Adams County Man is Invalid.

After a long, hard fight and two mistrials—one in Adams county and the other in Allen county courts—the principals in the suit of Isaac Williamson vs. Andrew Gotschalk, executor of the last will and testament of the late William Swartz, of Adams county, agreed to waive the intervention of a jury and submit the case to Judge Yaple in the superior court of this county and on Thursday he rendered judgment holding that the alleged will in issue was not the last will and testament of the decedent Swartz and was therefore invalid and of no effect. The estate involved is worth $20,000. After an Adams county jury disagreed in the first attempt to have the will declared invalid the case was sent to the Allen superior court, where it was on trial for eight days. The jury here also disagreed.

Prosecutor Pleads for Conviction.
The case of the state against Ursula Lohmeyer, charged with manslaughter for the death of her two-year-old son, last summer in Fort Wayne, was submitted to Judge John W. Eggenman in the circuit court late Thursday afternoon. The defense was insanity and Herbert L. Somers, counsel for Mrs. Lohmeyer, introduced much expert testimony to prove that at the time Mrs. Lohmeyer was practicing shocking cruelties upon her child she was not mentally responsible. The testimony in the case was concluded at 11 o'clock Thursday and Prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Hilgeman then addressed the court demanding that the woman be punished. Mr. Somers pleaded for acquittal. Mr. Hilgeman made the closing argument in the afternoon.

Fairy Mae Wallmark Sues.
That John Edward Wallmark in no wise appreciated what he had in the possession of Fairy Mae Wallmark for his wife is more than indicated by the allegations she makes to the superior court in her complaint for divorce. They were married in October, 1904, and separated in the same month, 1914, at which time she says his conduct became such she could no longer live with him. She charges that soon after marriage he began to fail and refuse to make reasonable provision for the support of herself and son, now aged 7 years, and that since May, 1913, has not provided life's necessities for them, in consequence of which delinquency she has been compelled to work in the laundries, restaurants and hotels of Fort Wayne for subsistence for herself and son. She further charges that he visited in the city of Toledo, Indianapolis and Fort Wayne with women of questionable character, spent most of his time and money on women in cafes, was out all night, admitted to her his companionship with bad women and that on one occasion he went to a place "at the old golf grounds," where he drank wine and had a good time with a lady friend. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name.

Was Deserted in Short Time.
Dora Shaffer, who gives her residence as Monroe township, Allen county, brings suit in the superior court for divorce from Louis E. Shaffer, to whom she says she was married January 25, 1910, and by whom she has a child that was born to her died. The defendant is a non-resident of Indiana.

Notes of the Courts.
Edwin Junghans has brought suit in the superior court against the Maumee Brick and Tile company for the appointment of a receiver and Judge Yaple has named John Suelzer, jr., to act in that capacity. The complaint says the company owes $20,000 that suits against it now pending in court and others are threatened. The plaintiff is a stockholder and to the extent of $240 a creditor of the concern.

Frank E. Stouder and Byron H. Barnett, owners of the New Palace, Temple and Lyric theaters, have brought suit in the superior court against George A. Harrison for $1,000 damages and for an injunction to restrain him from drawing his deposits from the German-American National bank. The defendant last November contracted with the plaintiffs to manage the Temple theater for $35 weekly salary and one-third of the net profits. The complaint alleges that Harrison has drawn out from the receipts of the house $734.26 that he never has accounted for. When the restraining order was served on the German-American bank Wednesday afternoon it was found that the defendant had anticipated such action and had assigned his deposits to his wife. Thursday Attorney Stephen A. Callahan for the plaintiffs then filed a third paragraph of his complaint, charging that in the assignment of the Harrison account there had been collusion and fraud and obtained another order of court restraining the bank from paying the money out to the assignee.

Albert Custard and Albert Booth have brought suit in the superior court against Clement L. Canada to foreclose a lien on an automobile, demanding $66.45.

The Tri-State Loan and Trust company, as receiver for the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company, has filed a report in the circuit court showing that it has on hand $16,652, out of which it asks permission to pay a salary of $500 and attorney's fees. The receiver also asks that a dividend be declared and ordered paid by the receiver, for which the money in hand, after deducting the sums stated, will be sufficient.

Clarence Staley has sued William Schrock et al. in the superior court to collect $125 for the death of a horse.

WILL USE IMPERIAL GARDENS.
Francis Joseph Ordre Raising Cabbages to Provide Food.

Amsterdam, March 4.—(5:42 p. m.)—The Voetsche Zeitung in a recent issue said it had heard from Vienna that on orders issued by Emperor Francis Joseph the imperial gardens and all the valuable space surrounding the imperial palaces in and near Vienna would be used for raising of cabbages to provide food for the people.

BOWLES OPPOSES ASQUITH POLICY

Former Member of English
Parliament Takes a
Rap at Premier.

London, March 4.—(11:36 a. m.)—Thomas Gibson Bowles, former member of parliament and a writer on naval matters, in an address before the institute of ship brokers in London expressed with much emphasis his inability to understand the policy of reprisals against Germany outlined by Premier Asquith in his speech in the house of commons. Mr. Bowles said: "What is to happen to cargoes of enemy ownership, origin and destination which are brought into port? They are not to be confiscated; this is expressly declared. Are they to be purchased by the captors according to the doctrine of pre-emption, with ten per cent compensation for delay?" If the latter course was pursued, Mr. Bowles pointed out, Great Britain would trade with Germany on a large scale. If pre-emption was not to be resorted to, Mr. Bowles asked if seized goods would be held in trust.

The speaker criticized the Asquith policy in that, so far as it has been outlined, it neglects to conform to the common law which protects neutral traders. He further objected to the premier's policy because it does not inflict maximum damage upon the enemy by confiscating the enemy's goods found in neutral ships.

SMUGGLER PLEADS GUILTY.

Samuel Saley Pays Fine of $2,500 in San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 4.—Samuel Saley, arrested here Jan. 15 by customs officers and charged with smuggling diamonds valued at $25,000 into the United States from Mexico, pleaded guilty today in the United States district court and paid a fine of $2,500. These jewels, it was found, were the property of the wife of General Turbide, of Carranza's army, who had committed them to Saley so that he could sell them in the United States to raise funds for the maintenance of an orphanage in Mexico where 200 children, whose fathers had been killed in the war, were starving. It is said that the jewels will probably be returned to Saley.

sible any action of the submarines in accordance with the international law.

"Fourth: The regulation of legitimate importations of food into Germany suggested by the American government appears to be in general acceptable. Such regulation would of course, be confined to importations by sea, but that would on the other hand include indirect importations by way of neutral ports. The German government would, therefore, be willing to make the declarations of the nature provided in the American note so that imported food and food stuffs solely by the non-combatant population would be guaranteed. The imperial government must, however, in addition, emphasize having the importation of other raw materials used by the economic system of non-combatants including forage, permitted. To that end the enemy governments would have to permit the free entry to Germany of the raw material mentioned in the free list of conditional contraband according to the same principles as food and food stuffs.

The German government ventures to hope that the agreement for which the American government has paved the way may be reached after due consideration of the remarks made above and that in this way peaceable neutral shipping and trade will not have to suffer any more than is absolutely necessary. The effects could be still further reduced if the points out in the German note of the 16th instant if some way could be found to exclude the shipping of munitions of war from neutral countries to belligerents on ships of any nationality.

"The German government must, of course, reserve a definite statement of their position until such time as they may receive further information from the American government enabling them to see what obligations the British government are on their part willing to assume."

Arrangements are being made by the Lincoln Republican club to bring a prominent speaker to Fort Wayne in the near future for the purpose of delivering an old-time republican speech.

In the senate some senators who are retiring from public life made farewell addresses.

Careful consideration of the public interest in conservation legislation and the development of a larger spirit of comity between the United States and foreign nations, particularly those of Central and South America, was urged by Senator Burton, who was ending twenty-two years service in congress. Instead of giving so much attention to questions of state rights and national control, he urged senators hereafter to consider first the public interests.

Cheers for Speaker Clark.
The tribute to Speaker Clark was led by Republican Leader Mann, who eulogized the "able and lovable speaker" and presented a resolution thanking him for his services. It was passed as the house rose to its feet with a tumult of applause and cheering. When it subsided the speaker said:

"The multiplicity of honors and kindness that this house has heaped on me goes straight to my heart."

Mr. Clark paid a tribute to Leader Mann, Representative Underwood and Representative Underwood and said in conclusion: "I hope every member of the house will enjoy this long vacation, if in the providence of God it turn out to be a long one."

"And I hope the blessings of God may rest upon each and every one, those who are to come back as well as those who are to retire to private life. And may God bless us every one."

The Indian bill failed in congress after all today. After the senate had once rejected and then reversed its action and passed the bill, the house refused to act on it and a joint resolution extending current appropriations for another year was allowed to stand.

Settled Down to Wait.
The house, cleaning its slate before 10 o'clock, settled down to wait for noon. Democratic Leader Underwood making his last speech on the floor—for he goes to the senate in the 64th congress—declared the house had done its work and it would not be the fault of that body if the government's finances were not cared for.

The senate after conferring with the house Indian and postal appropriations went into executive session to work on nominations.

President Wilson went to the capitol at 10 o'clock and promptly began signing the accumulation of bills and resolutions. All hope of passing the ship bill, the Philippine bill or the conservation measures had been abandoned and while the president worked, both houses marked time for the hands of the clock to touch twelve, noon.

Sent to Graveyard.
As the roll of the more important bills was called in the house requests of "Let it go over" from the floor sent them one by one into the legislative graveyard. They must be reintroduced if they are to be renewed in the 64th congress. In the galleries a few of the faithful lingered during the night, some perhaps held by personal interest in the bills and others hoping for an eleventh hour miracle; others kept out of their beds by curiosity alone. Crowded galleries are the rule in the last hours of any congress and every seat among the spectators' benches was filled until a late hour last night. The crowds began to return early today hoping for something to reward their patience.

At 3:45 an agreement was made not to consider anything but the Indian conference report and the postoffice bill. The Indian bill was then taken up and all but a few persons left the chamber to catch short naps. At that time there had been passed by unanimous consent bills already agreed to by the house providing for a standard apple barrel and locomotive inspection by the interstate commerce commission. Senator Marine made futile attempts to secure consideration of a bill creating a bureau of labor safety.

The house at 4:20 took a fifteen minutes recess and the members then organized the usual chorus and sang "Rag Time" and other songs, including "Good Bye My Lover Good Bye," "Way Down Yonder in the Corn Field," "Annie Laurie," etc. Rev. Hedin, of Alabama, amused the members by telling dark stories. When the recess was taken the house had been in continuous session for 18 hours and fifty minutes.

When the house re-assembled at 9 o'clock the failure of the Indian and postoffice bills in the senate was regarded as so certain that a resolution was passed extending the present appropriations over the next fiscal year.

In the senate another attempt to break the opposition to the Indian bill failed and the republican senators gave notice they would talk the post-office bill to death.

Last year's appropriations, which, under the house resolution, would continue another year, were $311,000,000 for the postal bill and $9,700,000 for the Indian bill. President Wilson kept "open house" and a steady procession of senators and representatives of all parties went from the capitol to the white house to shake hands with the president and say good bye.

After the Indian and postoffice appropriations resolutions had been passed in the house, Majority Leader Underwood made the following statement: "The house has attended to all the public business that it had to attend to. It has disposed of all the appropriations bills which came before it and could come before it. If the session of the congress is to be continued, it will be for the purpose of passing the Indian bill and the Philippine bill."

TO HIS ROOM ON THE SENATE SIDE OF THE CAPITOL TO SIGN BILLS AND MEET CONGRESS- MEN IN THE CLOSING HOURS.

The Compensation Bill.

The compensation bill was to be amended in the senate to conform to the statute of limitations. The house bill was objected, reduced by six months the time under which suits for damages for death or injury could be brought under the amendment, was agreed to in caucus last night to correct this provision. It was also agreed by amendment to extend the time for taking an appeal from the decision of the board of awards from seven to thirty days. These were the only changes of importance that were to be made in the bill as it was passed by the house. The bill provides that there shall be a state board of awards appointed by the governor with power to administer the provisions of the law. The maximum amount of compensation a workman may receive is limited to 55 per cent. of his weekly wage, and compensation stops after the injured employee has benefited to the amount of $5,000. Dependent relatives are entitled to receive not more than $13,500 following the death of an employee. The bill leaves it optional with the employer as to where he will carry his insurance.

CAPTURE FRENCH POSITIONS.

Berlin Reports German Successes on Heights of Lorette.

Berlin, March 4.—The developments in the war are reported as follows in a statement issued at the war office: "Western theater of war—On the heights of Lorette, northwest of Arras our troops early yesterday morning occupied positions of the enemy 1,600 meters (nearly one mile) wide, capturing eight officers, 553 French soldiers, seven machine guns and several small cannon. Hostile counter attacks during the afternoon failed."

Renewed French attacks in Champagne were easily repulsed.
A French attack in the Argonne, west of St. Hubert, failed. Counter attack, we occupied a French trench. In Cheppy wood also a French attack failed.

"One of the recent communications from the Eiffel tower declared that a German column while marching across the height of Talmur (northeast of Souain) was successfully held. We must confirm the accuracy of this announcement. The column consisted of French prisoners who were being led away and suffered a loss of 38 killed or wounded."

"Eastern theater of war—Russian attacks northeast of Grodno led them into flank fire from our artillery, and failed. Northeast of Lomza Russian attacks broke down with severe losses. In the region south of Mysyniec and Chazellen and northwest of Przasnysz the Russians again attacked. On the remainder of the front there was no change."

GERMAN TRENCHES DEMOLISHED.

Paris Account Says German Attack is Very Violent.

Paris, March 4.—This afternoon's statement from the war office is as follows: "In Belgium, on the dunes, our artillery demolished trenches of the enemy. To the north of Arras, near Notre Dame de Lorette, the enemy captured an advanced trench recently constructed by us in immediate contact with the German lines."

"The bombardment of Rheims lasted all day, a shell falling every three minutes."

"In Champagne it is confirmed that the German counter attacks against the crest taken by us to the northeast of Meul were of a very violent character. Two regiments of the Guards fought with great ferocity. The defeat of these efforts has been complete."

"There has been a cannonade in the Argonne, with fresh progress on our part in the region of Vauquois."

A supplementary statement was issued later as follows: "Captain Happe, one of our aviators, bombed on Wednesday a German powder magazine at Rowitwell, 23 kilometers north of Donaucshingen. His success was complete. Ten minutes after he had thrown bombs the powder magazine was afire."

BASH SELLS BANK BLOCK

In Fort Wayne, being most ideally located.

Mr. Bash, who is ill at his home, 1114 West Wayne street, admitted over the telephone Thursday morning to a Sentinel representative that he had disposed of the property, but was unable to give any information as to what Mr. Spohn intends to do with it. He gave it as his opinion that the new owner would not care to disclose the amount of the consideration, but it is understood on good authority that $60,000 is not far wrong.

FLOOD RELIEF FARMERS BOUEN

Senator Jackson's bill providing that nine members of a jury in a civil case might return a verdict when such an agreement was made at the opening of the trial was the only measure passed in the senate. An amendment to the Barrett assessment law introduced by Representative Wyas, of Fort Wayne, which provides for regulation of assessment payments by installment and offering an opportunity for payment in a lump sum without payment of interest in full, failed to receive a constitutional majority.

Takes Issue With Ralston.
Representative Niblack took issue with Governor Ralston in his stand not to receive any bills which are passed after Friday midnight, except those at his own option. The governor, Mr. Niblack said, has been misinformed. Mr. Niblack gave it as his opinion that any measure ordered sent to the governor up to Saturday midnight would have to be considered by him. The governor's action was due to a provision of the constitution which requires that bills must be received by him within two days of the date of adjournment if they are to receive executive approval. The governor did not regard Sunday as a legislative day, while Mr. Niblack said it is.

Fort Wayne Bill Passes.
Flood relief measures, introduced by Senator Van Auken in behalf of the city of Fort Wayne, and by Senator Mercer in behalf of Peru, were passed in the house. Two bills providing for repair and maintenance of ditches and drains, regarded as of much importance in rural communities were also ordered sent to the governor.

In order to meet objections of Gov. Ralston to two bills, which he vetoed on the ground of their being local legislation, Representative E. K. Davis introduced a bill providing that the advisory board of any township be authorized to levy a tax on all property in a township including incorporated towns, in order to raise funds for township purposes. The rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

Stirs Up Opposition.
When Representative Strange's bill, providing the state code the soldiers' home at Marion to the United States and that inmates be required to comply with certain conditions in order to vote, was considered and great opposition to it developed.

Members denounced the measure as being for the purpose of preventing soldiers from voting in Grant county. Among measures reported for passage by house committees today was the Stotsenburg amendments to the constitution as passed by the senate.

PARENTS AFTER POOL ROOMS.

Huntington, Ind., March 4.—A crusade against the use of tobacco by boys and against pool rooms that permit minors to resort in them has been decided upon by the Parent-Teacher association of this city. At a meeting of the association in the auditorium of the Huntington high school the following resolution, introduced by Mrs. J. W. Caswell, was adopted: "Be it Resolved: That a committee of three be appointed to interview the proprietors of pool rooms, in reference to allowing boys to assemble and smoke in their rooms, in order to bring about a condition in which the boys will be found habiting places where they will be under the influence that their parents should wish them to be."

DOGS CAUSE HEAVY LOSSES.

Bluffton, Ind., March 4.—Reports just filed with the county auditor by township trustees show that the ravages of dogs caused heavy losses in Wells county during the past year. Jackson township had receipts of $306 from dogs and paid out $304 on account of them. Other townships show the following damages paid: Lancaster, $271.50; Harrison, $421; Union, $106; Chester, $247.25; Liberty, $213.50; Nottingham, $220.85; Jefferson and Rock Creek townships have not filed detailed reports, but there were heavy losses. The dogs killed sheep, chickens, turkeys and geese and did other damage.

LEG CRUSHED UNDER WAGON.

Huntington, Ind., March 4.—A wheel slipped from its axle while Ora Orley, living a mile north and half mile west of Mrs. Etna was hauling a load of hogs to Andrews. He crawled under the wagon after raising the hub and placing a prop under it. And then the prop slipped out and he was pinned under the wagon, crushing his leg. But for the timely assistance he might have been fatally injured while lying under the wagon helpless from his injuries. He was hurriedly taken to Andrews to a physician's office.

The Monroeville high school basketball team is scheduled to be here Friday evening, when they will again attack our high school team in the endeavor to beat "em another game. This will probably be the last game that will be played on the home floor, and will be a satisfactory affair, as our locals are all blazoned out in war paint and are hungry for the reeking scalp of these braves from over in Hoosierdom.

Walter Stainfield was a business visitor at Lagrange, Ind., Wednesday.

John Place and family, who moved to Fort Wayne from this burg last fall, have again moved back to the village and will resume their former residence here.

The ladies of the Thimble club held a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr Tuesday evening, the same number of invited guests. The evening was spent in music and conversation. Several contests were indulged in to while away the time, the gentlemen being the contestants.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalm 27:1-14.

1 The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion; in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me upon a rock.

6 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord.

7 Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice; have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

8 When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.

9 Hide not thy face far from me; put not thy servant away in anger; thou hast been my help; leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

10 When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies.

12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies; for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.

13 I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.

14 Wait on the Lord; be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart; wait, I say, on the Lord.

No. 147

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1915.

Two Years of Wilson.

It is precisely two years since Woodrow Wilson became president of the United States, and half the presidential term for which he was elected in 1912, is ended, and both friends and foes of the administration will turn with much interest to a review of its accomplishments. Important congressional legislation enacted during these two years is summarized by a Washington writer as follows:

1. Revision of the tariff.
2. The creation of a new banking and currency system.
3. The establishment of a trade commission, which is to have supervision over all corporations engaging in interstate trade, and the enactment of important amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law.
4. The repeal of legislation enacted by the preceding congress providing for free Panama canal tolls for ships engaged in the American coastwise trade.
5. Authorization for the president to locate, construct and operate a railroad system in the territory of Alaska.
6. Legislation encouraging foreign-built ships to take out American registry.
7. The establishment of a war risk insurance bureau in the treasury department.
8. The levying of a war revenue tax made necessary by the European conflict.

It will be readily agreed that during these two years the president has had more knotty problems to solve than has any other executive since civil war days. His burden has been a tremendous one, and the ordinary man would doubtless have broken down under its strain months ago. Of his personal accomplishments the most notable have been the driving of the special interest lobby from the national capital and the keeping of the United States from war, both in the Mexican embroilment and in the still more delicate European situation. There has, in fact, scarcely been a moment since he has occupied the presidential chair when it was not necessary to move carefully in order to avoid war dangers that beset the country. His has been the master hand that has thus far piloted the country safely. Doubtless even the president himself is disappointed in the fact that foreign conditions have operated against a fair test of the tariff and other constructive legislation that has been enacted. It is certain, however, that there has been a constant augmentation of public confidence in the president's sincerity, his patriotism and his devotion to the people who have signally honored him and who unwaveringly trust him.

It is gratifying to observe that the new federal law controlling the sale and administration of narcotic drugs is commanding wholesome respect. Still, we are forced to sympathize with the patient in the care of a Northern Indiana dentist while the latter awaited a reply to the following telegram which he sent to the revenue collector at Indianapolis: "Patient with toothache awaiting extraction; what shall I do?" The dentist had registered for the administration of narcotics, but had not received his official permit, and he clearly didn't propose to take any chances. To complete the incident it may be added that the revenue office wired in reply: "Extract the tooth and keep a record."

President Heilbroner, of the Central Baseball league, has succeeded in patching up peace in that organization. His accomplishment in this instance moves The Sentinel to suggest that when the powers are casting an eye about for a diplomat who might mollify the warring nations and bring about a cessation of hostilities in the arena of war, the sagacity of this modest Fort Wayne man be not overlooked.

Three conventions of ice men are to be held in Indianapolis next week. And can you blame the ice men for making a little bit of celebrating? The cold may

SOUTH BEND TO HAVE SPRING FASHION SHOW

Novel Event to Be Staged by Merchants There Next Week.

South Bend, Ind., March 4.—The greatest event of its kind ever undertaken in this part of the central west will be South Bend's first spring fashion week March 9 to 13 inclusive. It may seem rather curious to most people that the affair fostered by South Bend's daily newspapers, but that is the fact and the newspapers are being supported in it by the big, live merchants of the city.

The affair promises to bring thousands of visitors to the city; men and women who have never participated in a spring fashion week and who desire to see what an interesting and what an instructive event it can be made. Electric railways will give reduced rates while steam roads will run trains that will make reaching South Bend an easy matter.

The event will open next Tuesday evening. Early in the evening the central business district will be kept in almost total darkness. Lanterns will walk the streets carrying lanterns to give an ancient effect. On a signal lights will be turned on and curtains of store display windows will drop. Fireworks will be displayed and in all this brilliance people will see the most gorgeously decorated store windows ever shown in this section. Miss South Bend, impersonated by a charming and attractive young woman whose name is being kept secret until time to display it in brilliant letters that night, will pass through the streets in an automobile accompanied by a band. After the grand opening theaters and cafes will be ready for guests.

On Wednesday morning stores will open for business and continue their displays until and including Saturday night. The street and building decorations will be beautiful while store interiors will in some instances approach to gorgeousness. Living models will display wonderful gowns and the latest in men's clothes, jewelry, shoes, furniture, etc., will be shown.

RALSTON'S ACT PUTS MEASURES IN BALANCE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 4.—Pending legislative matters including practically all of the more important bills introduced were placed in the balance today—the 57th of the session—by Gov. Ralston, who sent a special message to the two houses informing the legislators he would stand on his constitutional right to refuse to accept any bills passed after midnight Friday. With the women's compensation, mediation and conciliation, limited suffrage for women, state highway commission, legislative re-apportionment, shorter hours of work for women, permanent registration, direct primary and other important measures still to be acted upon by either the house or senate or both, leaders expected to gear up the legislative machinery for extraordinary speed in order to get as many of these matters to his office as possible.

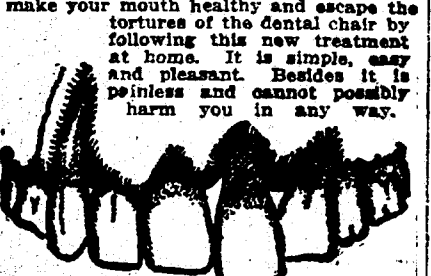

Activity Among Women.

Decision of the governor brought greater activity among women and others here urging enactment of laws of particular interest to them. The women were especially eager to get suffrage by the house but what course they will pursue has not been announced. Appropriations for state institutions and departments for the next two years practically were put out of the way yesterday when the senate amended the specific appropriation bill and passed it. All that remains is for the house to approve of the senate amendments, which added approximately $70,000 to the bill. The regular appropriation was ordered sent to the governor earlier in the week.

With defeat of the Walz railroad fare bill yesterday came the announcement of officers of the Big Four and Monon railroads that enactment of the half mile freight train bill and the measure to require only telegraphers to handle train orders, now pending in the senate would seriously affect returns to

ATTORNEYS ARGUE FOR HIGHER RATES

Lawyers Submit Pleas for Western Railroads at Chicago.

Chicago, March 4.—Attorneys for 41 western railroads, which are seeking an increase in certain freight rates over 98,000 miles of road were prepared to begin their argument today before Commissioner W. M. Daniels, of the interstate commerce commission. The increases asked for, according to the railroads, would give the roads involved about $10,000,000 more revenue annually.

C. C. Wright, general solicitor for the Chicago Northwestern Railway company, appeared with bundles of statistics on behalf of all the roads, while Clifford Thorne, chairman of the Iowa state railway commission was prepared to oppose the application in the interest of various state railway commissions and many shippers. Mr. Thorne said that among the organizations which would oppose the rate increase would be the American National Live Stock association, the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative association, the National Broom Manufacturers' association, the corn belt Meat Packers association, and several hundred firms.

The railroads will continue their progress of the case until March 30, when the shippers will be heard.

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Trusses did me no good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no last time, no trusses. I have met with no other who give full information about how you can find a complete cure without operation. If you write to the "Cured His Rupture" Carpenter, 35 A. Market Street, Boston, Mass., N. J. Matter out on this notice and show it to any others who are ruptured. You will find it is the only way to get a complete cure without operation.

AMERICAN ATTITUDE IMPRESSES FRANCE

Press Suggests Purchase of Cargoes to Avert Loss to Neutrals.

Paris, March 4.—The quiet and dignified manner in which the American press and public received the Franco-British declaration of proposed naval reprisals against Germany has made a strong impression in France. Many writers in the leading newspapers point out that a nation so devoted to business interests as the United States scarcely could be expected to remain unmoved at the proposal of closing the sea routes to a country with which it does an annual business of $500,000,000.

"We can prevent loss to neutrals," says the Matin, "by purchasing cargoes which we desire to deprive Germany. We should perhaps lose on these purchases, which we neither could use nor resell until later, but the loss would be a mere drop in the ocean of enormous war expense and very little in comparison to the extra blood it would have been necessary to shed for having neglected this necessary means to hasten the enemy's capitulation by economic strangulation."

Prof. Charles Richel, writing in the Figaro, declares that while the Germans contend the allies' blockade is barbarous and contrary to international law, a blockade carried out by a French fleet prevented British admirals from revictualing General Cornwallis, thus forcing him to capitulate at Yorktown in the American revolutionary war. Professor Richel says no historian ever has pretended this was a disloyal act and "we should be greatly surprised if the Americans in 1915 condemned a proceeding which permitted Gen. Washington, in 1781, to win American independence."

JAG LIST WRECKS HOTEL.

Citizens Whose Names Are Published Quit Bar and Inn Fails.

Milford, Pa., March 4.—Following publication of Milford's "jag list," which contained the names of fifty-eight citizens, the oldest local hotel has gone into bankruptcy because of decreased patronage at the bar.

Pittsburg Bank Closes; Hard Hit by "Dry" Wave

Pittsburg, Pa., March 4.—The German bank, of Pittsburg, did not open its doors for business at 9 o'clock this morning. A notice on the door said it had been closed by order of the controller of the currency.

Officers and directors of the German National are prominently identified with the Pittsburg Brewing company, whose securities recently have suffered heavily on the Pittsburg stock exchange because, it was said, of the enactment of prohibition laws in West Virginia and the extension of local option in eastern Ohio, territory in which the brewing company formerly did a large business.

The German National was organized in 1904 with a capital of $500,000, and on December 31 last reported deposits of $5,024,923. Its surplus and undivided profits on that date were $694,265. Its dividend rate was 12 per cent. annually.

A. A. Fraunheim, vice president of the bank, is a director in the Pittsburg Brewing company, and E. J. Vilsack, a director in the bank, is vice president of the Brewing company.

Little excitement attended the closing of the institution, although a large crowd gathered in front of the banking house soon after the notice was posted.

J. S. W. Eversmann, cashier, issued a statement in which he said that the directors last night went over the business of the institution carefully and decided to close because of generally unsatisfactory conditions and "certain paper which the bank held, paper which ordinarily would be all right."

He hoped that depositors would be paid in full, but said he could make no promise.

The German National had a Pittsburg municipal deposit of $40,000.

PROTECTED BY BONDS.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 4.—The state of Pennsylvania has $140,000 of its general funds in the German National bank of Pittsburg. This is protected by corporate bonds for $200,000.

SAYS BUT TWO FORTS STILL REMAIN INTACT

London, March 4.—A British officer of the allied fleet which is bombarding the Dardanelles, is quoted in a dispatch from Athens as saying that only two forts now remain intact. The bombardment of the inner forts was resumed this morning, ten large warships entering the straits for the purpose.

The reports of extensive damage to the fortifications are not borne out, however, by the dispatches from Constantinople. One such message to a Berlin newspaper states that the injury to the outer forts is less than has been reported and that the inner fortifications, which constitute the more important defense, have not yet been seriously damaged.

transferred to American registry after the outbreak of the war.

The German military authorities admit the re-capture of Przemysl, northern Poland, by the Russians, but assert the Russian suffered so severely during the attack that they were unable to disturb the orderly retreat of the Germans.

This account is at variance with Russian reports of a few days ago which stated that the German retreat was the most disorderly and precipitate of any in the series of military activity. The German statement says, however, that large numbers of wounded were left behind in neighboring villages.

The Russian war office has given a more detailed account of the retreat of its army.

LILLIAN BELL'S CHATS WITH ENGAGED GIRLS.

ENGAGED TO A PERFECT MAN?

Lillian Bell

The very first thing girls must count on, after marriage, is anxiety. You'll get it, in one form or another, for no one, except the utterly callous, ever escapes.

Either you will be anxious about money, or your husband's health or his bad habits, or when the children begin to come, you will know the deadly anxiety with which every woman pays for the privilege of becoming a mother—the anxiety over her children's health. A sick baby sometimes runs the price a girl pays for marriage, into the millions.

I do not mean for a girl to pick flaws in her lover or to be on the lookout for somebody who might suit her better. I would never advise any girl to look for trouble.

But if he has irritating personal habits, why did you not discover them before you put him to the expense of getting a ring?

If you don't mind cigars, but you simply can't stand a pipe, think of it now. He will not give it up, even for you, although he may pretend to. He makes it now wherever you are not around, and no matter what he says, he expects to smoke it when you are married, regardless of the portieres and the curtains.

You may be very pretty and attractive, but you do not compare to the beauty and fragrance of a man's favorite pipe.

So think! Every broken engagement means just one more mistake canceled.

Yet few girls can resist getting engaged.

It would be a waste of words to give the same advice to a girl who contemplated accepting a man, but after she has done it—said the fatal "yes" which has wrecked so many men's happiness—when the newness had worn off the ring and the surprise of the whole thing has somewhat dulled in her mind, then I would advise her to break her engagement—if she can.

Does that sound brutal, frivolous, unprincipled?

It is none of the three. No girl with a brain ever entered into an engagement without a few doubts as to the wisdom of her decision.

Why? Because perfect men do not exist and, if they did, nobody with any self-respect would marry them and get talked about for having done a freak act.

Think what the neighbors could do to you, if you had married the one perfect man, while theirs were—

But I need go no further. Nobody ever heard of one, so why bother?

Therefore every girl engaged to an imperfect man has something to worry over.

But so many influences are at work in the average girl's life, urging her to marry, that she dares not listen too intently to the still, small voice of caution which bids her pause and think ere it is too late.

It is a hideous thing—this pressure, conscious and unconscious—which is brought to bear on girls, teaching them whether fitted for it or not to look forward to marriage as the ultimate of all things.

Many a girl does not want to marry. Many a girl is not fitted physically or mentally, to marry.

Yet what happens?

All her sisters and friends marry. She hears talk of her own marriage. It is taken for granted that everybody is going to marry. Nobody is exempt. (Copyright, 1915, by the Newspaper Enterprise Association.)

THESE PRETTY PARTY FROCKS MANY PRETTY GIRLS WILL WEAR.

"Springtime" is the name of the gown shown at the right. It's designed for the Easter season and the colors of spring are reproduced in the orchid satin and floral trimmings, as well as in the corsage of orchids.

Tiny pink rose buds are used to outline the double triangular design at the right front, and the left front of the slightly draped skirt. The low-cut bodice is an artistic arrangement of gold-threaded lace brought into a fan-shaped drapery at the right. From this drapery falls a broad strand of brocaded lace finished with a fringe of cut steel and jet.

At the left is shown a charming frock for "party" wear made of white tulle with an odd little overskirt made in double apron effect topping a satin underskirt ruffled with white chiffon and the ruffles give the skirt the flare effect which every skirt must have this spring. The bodice is of satin with swallops ruffled just below the bust line and a wide girde of chiffon. The shoulder sleeves are also of chiffon.

all prettily served and quite appropriate for a birthday feast.

Mrs. Clint Willson has gone to Ann Arbor, Mich., to attend the Delta Gamma reunion. From there she will go to Detroit to spend a few days.

Mrs. Ida Overmyer is going to entertain a small company tomorrow afternoon at her home on the Bluffton road, in honor of Mrs. May Leubach, of Chicago, and Mrs. Pittman, of Logansport.

Miss Mary Freeman, of Louisville, Ky., who had been spending a number of weeks here with her aunts, Mrs. Mary and Miss Eliza Rudisill left for her home in Kentucky yesterday. The many friends of Miss Rudisill will be glad to hear of her continued improvement from a long illness of a serious nature.

Mrs. M. C. Norton is entertaining three ladies from Anderson, her former home, for a few days. The visitors came today and are Mesdames Mustard, Durbin and Hooven.

Larimore-Holt. Miss Hulda Irene Holt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Holt, of Lake township, and Mr. George James Larimore, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Larimore, of the same township, were united in marriage on Thursday evening, Feb. 25, at the home of the bride. The officiating minister was Rev. Mr. Wright, of Coesse. The guests were only those of near relationship to the bride and groom. The bride wore a lawn color silk dress and held a bouquet of bride roses. Mr. Ralph Larimore, of Chicago, a brother to the groom, was present. Mrs. Cecil Hagan, of Saskatchewan, Canada, was another out of town guest. Mr. and Mrs. Larimore have gone to housekeeping on the John Roach farm, in Whitley county, and are at home there to their many friends.

Washington School P. T. Club. Dr. B. P. Weaver will address the Parent-Teacher club of the Washington school tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The fourth and fifth grade classes will contribute to the entertaining program. All members of the club and interested parents of the district are cordially invited to be present.

WOMAN'S LEAGUE MEETING.

An important part of the meeting of the Woman's league meeting on Saturday afternoon in the assembly room of the court house will be a talk on taxation by Samuel M. Foster at 3 o'clock. Following Mr. Foster's talk which will be apropos of the time of the year, will be a talk by Miss Braddock on school gardening. There will be exhibited under the auspices of the league, all day in the same room, work from the state institute for the blind. Articles will be for sale and the proceeds of the sale will be sent to the institution for the betterment of the blind people whose work is said to be very wonderful.

AT THE NEW PALACE

The superb acoustic properties of the New Palace theater are a constant source of wonder to Mme. Doree, whose Imperial Grand Opera company is singing an arrangement of operatic airs at the theater this week. Mme. Doree last night slipped out to the orchestra floor to listen from that point to the singing of "Cavalleria Rusticana," and after the curtain had dropped she turned to B. H. Barnett and said, "No wonder they like us in Fort Wayne. One hears perfectly even back here under both the balcony and the entresol loges. The acoustics are superior to many of

DON'T WORRY ABOUT SNUB NOSE—DRESS YOUR HAIR TO SUIT IT.

Irene Estelle Hough

"I studied the effect of my hair on my profile."

It's all very well to look the world straight in the face, but remember that the world often takes a side glance at you—so make the most of your profile.

The profile as any artist will tell is more important than the front view of the face, for the sparkle of the eyes, the arch of the brows often redeem irregular features, but the eye sheds none of its luster on the profile; the side of your face depends entirely on the regularity of your features for its charm.

Therefore, study your profile; study the shape of your nose, the curve of your mouth, the line of your cheek and the mold of your chin. You cannot change these features, but you can change their appearance by the way you dress your hair.

the grand opera houses of the great cities." On this superb bill of B. F. Keith vaudeville with the Imperial Grand Opera company are such acts as James H. Cullen, "The Man From the West," in sparkling parodies and snappy stories; Jane Ward and Billie Cullen in a "Polite Pianolog," Luigi Roma's whirlwind acrobats in a dazzling array of athletic feats; Leon Jackson and Mae is a rare bicycle act; "The Comedy Conservatory," a howling funny black face musical act, and Smith, Cook and Brandon.

AT THE LYRIC.

A troupe of real Indians in the flesh will lend a dash of color to the spectacular presentation of "Custer's Last Fight" which is being projected at the Lyric today in an authorized version done under the direction and with the air of the war department. Chief Bull Bear, who as a young warrior participated in the Battle of Little Big Horn is one of the party of Sioux who will do their native dances and sing their native songs at the Lyric today.

Ruth Poland the Girl Detective's solution of the Mystery of the Tea Damsel, is said to be the most thrilling of any of the episodes which have been a weekly feature at the Lyric for a month. A comedy, "When Mother Visited Nellie," and a drama called, "Money," are other big features on today's bill.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

DELICIOUS FILM ROMANCE.

"The Love Route," Paramount Drama, With Harold Lockwood, a Jefferson Success.

The central theme in this charming story is devoted to the romance between a young girl, the owner of a western ranch, and the civil engineer of a local railroad company, which intends to build a line across the ranch.

Tomorrow the now famous Million Dollar Mystery will be solved upon the Jefferson screen, and in connection with the solution the identity of Hargreaves will be disclosed, and a picture of the $10,000 prize winner shown. "C. O. D." the great Vitaphone comedy hit, will be another attraction of stellar merit, revealed on the same program.

AT THE COLONIAL

William Elliot in "The Fortune Hunter."

Presenting a cast of thirty well known metropolitan stars, headed by the noted actor of juvenile parts—William Elliot, the Lubin company, of Philadelphia, has filmed in six brilliant reels the famous comedy of Winchell Smith's—"The Fortune Hunter."

The story tells of a young prodigal who—after making a failure of his college career and early business life, is driven to ask for aid from his old college chum, Kellogg, now a successful business man. Kellogg sends Duncan away to a small rural village to, reconstruct his shattered young life, and it is in this dreamy little country town that Duncan builds anew. He becomes one of the prominent business men of the town and later marries an adorable little country girl, who has worshipped him through all his trials and tribulations.

CONGRESS AT WORK ACTUALLY 637 DAYS

Has Been in Almost Continuous Session for Past Two Years.

Washington, March 4.—The Sixty-third congress, first under complete domination of the democratic party since 1896, ended today at noon.

It had been in almost continuous session since President Wilson's inauguration two years ago. Beginning with an extra session called by the president April 7, 1913, the congress has worked actually 637 days.

Much important legislation was accomplished, but much contemplated, some of it hard pressed by the president and party leaders, was left undone. It is the present intention of the president and his advisers to give congress a rest. Rather than force an extra session, they would leave the remainder of the administration's constructive aspirations to a new congress next winter, which, although under democratic control, will have a greatly reduced majority in the house.

Important Enactments.

Foremost in the enactments of the Sixty-third congress were:

The Underwood-Simmons tariff act, with the income tax, which replaced the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

The federal reserve act, reorganizing the currency system.

Anti-trust laws to supplement the Sherman act, including the Clayton law and federal trade commission act, the former providing for punishment of individuals who violate business regulations and the latter establishing a government institution to aid in keeping business within the law.

Repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption for American coast-wise shipping.

Act directing the building at a cost of $35,000,000 of a government railroad to the mineral fields of Alaska.

Act to regulate cotton exchanges and to penalize dealings in purely speculative cotton futures sales.

A special internal revenue tax, commonly called the "war tax."

War Risk Insurance.

A government war risk insurance bureau to insure American ships against the hazards of war, and an act providing for the transfer of foreign-owned or built ships to American registry.

Of those measures which failed of enactment or could not be considered for lack of time, the following are regarded by democratic leaders as paramount:

Bill for government purchase or charter of transoceanic ships for the establishment of an American merchant marine which encountered the most stubborn filibuster in the history of the senate, created an important movement in the democratic ranks and held general legislation for weeks of the last session.

The immigration bill, including a literacy test for admission of aliens, which passed both houses, was vetoed by President Wilson and failed by a narrow margin to repass the house on a motion to overturn the veto.

Conservation measures urged by the president to provide a new system for leasing of water power sites and a leasing system to open the mineral resources of the country.

Bill to enlarge the measure of Philippine self-government and to extend promise of ultimate independence to Filipino people, a measure which passed the house and was approved by a senate committee.

Regulation of Securities.

Regulation by the interstate commerce commission of the issue of railroad securities, originally a part of the administration's anti-trust program.

Rural credits legislation contemplating the establishment of a system of farm mortgage loan banks, persistently urged throughout the congress.

In addition to the foregoing, scores of general legislative bills covered a wide range of subjects, among them, measures for federal road improvement, general waterway development, reorganization of the civil service, to prohibit importation of convict-made goods, and several measures for reorganization of the army.

The last session of the congress was notable, too, for the failure of two great issues, national prohibition and woman suffrage. Proposed constitutional amendments precipitated two of the

"MILITANT MOTHER" MAKES PLEA FOR GIRLS WHO OVERWORK

Mrs. Mae Romig Miller and Her Baby Girl.

"If you would make our national defenses strong, protect our women workers," is the plea Mrs. Mae Romig Miller, of South Bend, Ind., makes to the Indiana legislature in support of the bill for a nine-hour-a-day and fifty-hour-a-week limit to work for women.

Mrs. Miller is called Indiana's "Militant mother." She has done much to improve the conditions under which women work.

Most exciting legislative battles in the history of the house of representatives, both measures failing to receive a necessary two-thirds vote.

Foreign Relations.

Foreign relations of the nation were constantly to the fore almost from the beginning of the congress. The Mexican situation required close attention from the outset, as has the European war. Throughout the session the president and the senate foreign relations committee were in frequent conferences and much was done to restrain unusual demonstrations which might have disturbed international tranquility. Early in the session general arbitration treaties with several great foreign powers were renewed for five-year periods and twenty-six peace commission treaties providing for investigation of international disputes before resort to arms were negotiated and ratified. A treaty to enforce the regulations adopted by the London Safety-at-Sea conference was ratified last December, but with an amendment making reservations which came too late for other powers to consider, thus preventing enforcement of the convention. A treaty with Nicaragua providing for acquisition of the Nicaraguan canal route and naval stations for $3,000,000 was left unratified by the senate and the pending treaty with Colombia directing payment of $25,000,000 for the Panama canal strip was held in by the foreign relations committee.

The Closing Session.

The closing session of the congress was almost wholly devoted to appropriation bills, the ship purchase bill fight, and a few general measures. Aside from appropriations about the only important legislative enactments included the creation of the coast guard by consolidation of the life-saving and revenue cutter services; reclassification of grades in the diplomatic and consular service; requirement of registration of and imposing special taxes upon all dealers, manufacturers or importers of opium or its derivatives, and the creation of the Rocky Mountain National park in Colorado.

Much debate on the condition of national defenses enlivened the closing session. Proposals for special investigation of the preparedness of the nation for war all failed. House naval and military committees, however, conducted public hearings on the subject in connection with the military supply bills.

The congress also was marked by differences between President Wilson and some democratic senators over patronage; a spirited contest over confirmation of nominees for the federal reserve board; two successful filibusters—one in the summer session against the rivers and harbors appropriation bill and the other the fight of republicans and democratic allies against the ship purchase bill; an unsuccessful effort in the senate to establish a cloture rule to limit prolonged debate; institution of a special inquiry into outside influences exerted against the ship purchase bill; general lobby investigation which extended for many months, and proposals of an inquiry into senatorial campaign contributions.

With the fall of the gavel today many senators and congressmen long national figures passed into private life. Senators who retire are Root of New York; Burton, Ohio; Perkins, California; Thornton, Louisiana; Brewster, Kansas; Stephenson, Wisconsin; Crawford, South Dakota; Camden, Kentucky; and White of Alabama. Representative Underwood leaves the house to go to the senate. Scores of representatives in house give way to new members.

New York, March 4.—Gustave Cook, indicted with Edward Peter Stogler, and Richard Nathan, co-conspirators against the government in obtaining an American passport for a German spy, today gave $5,000 bail.

HORATIO S. GATES HAS A BIRTHDAY

Some Intimate Friends Gave Him a Surprise and a Present.

Horatio Seymour Gates, known among his associates as "Colonel" Gates, was host at a stag party last night, which was a most pleasing surprise to him. The event, which was engineered by one of Colonel Gates' fellow office employes,

COL. H. S. GATES.

was in celebration of his sixty-third birthday anniversary and the participants were men, employed at the Pennsylvania offices and the Electric works. They walked to the home of Colonel Gates in a body and when admitted to his presence, Floyd D. C. Golden, the toastmaster and spokesman of the party, presented him with a magnificently bound copy of Senator Cullom's book, "Fifty Years in Public Life." Colonel Gates is a student and spends most of his spare hours in reading books and the higher grade of magazines and he expressed pleasure in being the owner of this valuable book. The evening was passed in social games and conversation, followed by a most delicious luncheon. Seated at the table were Colonel Gates, Floyd D. C. Golden, W. S. Rayburn, Theodore Michel, George U. Bruke, F. M. Miller, Ralph Phillips, W. D. Fitch and Ralph Perkins. Colonel Gates has been at the Pennsylvania freight offices since October 8, 1889, and most of his service has been in the capacity of report clerk. Before taking employment with the freight office, Colonel Gates was in business at Galion, Ohio, where he with his brother were engaged in the drug business a number of years. His personality attracts friends and none at the freight office is more popular than he.

CLERICAL FORCE OF PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY'S FREIGHT OFFICE TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO.

If the entire clerical force at the Pennsylvania freight office twenty-seven years ago is represented in the above picture, as claimed, time has wrought a most wonderful change in the personnel of the office. Only two men whose portraits are in the group are now employees of the company. They are

Charles M. Jones, cashier of the company, and Fred M. Miller, one of the rate clerks. There are sixteen faces in the group shown above and of the number seven are dead. The boy shown in the foreground of the picture was a messenger in the department twenty-seven years ago, but his name and present whereabouts could not be learned. The others in the group, commencing with the first row, reading from left to right, are Fred M. Miller, the present rate clerk; Charles Rossington, deceased; James Wells, deceased; N. H. Foster, now traveling salesman for the Wayne Knitting mills. Rear row—Charles O. WITH FOLK BETWEEN THE FIRING LINES

Scenes More Dramatic Than Ever Dreamed by Fiction Writers.

(By H. J. Phillips.)

Paris, Feb. 25.—Staff correspondence by mail.—Under the edge of the news which seeps back from the front are stories so wildly dramatic that hardly in normal times, would a fiction writer or playwright dare incorporate them in his plot.

There is the very human tale of a scrap of paper told by a lieutenant on three days' furlough from the trenches. Every soldier knows the way letters for the front have of going astray. One of the finest fighting men in this lieutenant's company, a devil-may-care sort of man by the name of Legrand, was eating his heart out in secret at the absence of all news from home.

He was found in tears one morning, and confessed that unless a bullet soon put an end to his career there would be nothing else for him to do but to blow out his brains. He could stand the suspense no longer.

With that touch of feeling that makes all men brothers at the front his comrades set to work to find a letter that might meet the case.

No matter to whom they may write women all say the same in these war times, and a letter for one man can easily serve for almost every soldier in his trench.

As luck had it Legrand was named Jean, and a dozen Jean's had letters that night do. When it came to the point, though, none of them wanted to give them up, but in the end a soldier named Audrioux consented to "lend."

Legrand's joy was a sight to behold when the missive reached him. He had daily been expecting to learn that he was a father, and the news that "the little one is doing fine" made him highly pleased.

Just then the Germans sprang a surprise attack upon the line, and Legrand had no more time to bestow upon his precious letter.

Never had he fought so brilliantly, and it was while leading a charge against the enemy's quick-firers that he fell, pierced by a score of shots.

The French could not push home their advantage, and were glad enough to get back into the shelter of their own trench. They dare not even try to save the wounded lying helpless between the rival lines.

At nightfall Audrioux was caught stealing from the trench. Shame-facedly he explained that as Legrand was dead there was no harm in trying to find him in order to get his letter back to grasy it at the moment that a bullet laid him low.

He would not listen to any advice to wait until things had quieted down. Off he went, and a couple of days later the men found him stretched stiff and stark by the body of Legrand.

Both were clutching tightly at the blood-stained letter. Legrand had taken it from his breast for one last kiss before he died, and Audrioux had stooped to grasp it at the moment that a bullet laid him low.

"Lo Telegramme" prints the story of a woman fleeing under fire to Paris from a village near La Basace.

One of her three children was killed by a spent bullet, and the distracted mother, to save her life and that of the other children, had to hurry on and leave the dead body of her twelve-year-old daughter by the roadside.

The woman's husband was called out at the beginning of the war, and she was left with the care of her three children. Lately the war came so close to her little home that she was forced to risk the dangers of the journey, and seek some place of greater safety.

She set out with her children early one morning. If it was dangerous to stay, it seemed just then even more dangerous to go. A terrific fusillade was going on all round. As the woman herself describes the journey she and her children were in the home of death, where the bullets were falling like rain.

"The journey was one long torture," she said. "We were trembling with fear, but we had to push on, and then one of my children—my little girl—was struck by a German bullet. She died in my arms.

"I was distracted. I could not stay by her body for fear that the other children would be killed. I had to make them hurry on—to leave the body of my little one lying there by the roadside. It was my Calvary.

"So we passed on in spite of the bullets and the danger, expecting death at every moment. But the body of my little girl—is it still lying there by the roadside?"

Among the hundreds of refugees who had to leave Ypres as the German invasion advanced was a Belgian lady of eighty-three. Her only relative, a son, was with the Belgian army, and she had to find refuge alone with friends in France.

The shock of leaving a town to which she was connected by the close ties that a long life had woven brought on an illness that was increased by the news of the destruction by the Germans of so much with which the old lady had tender association. It was soon clear that her feeble strength was ebbing, and as she felt death consciously draw near she became possessed of one dominating wish; she wanted to die in her old home in ruined Ypres.

The old lady's son in the Belgian army has greatly distinguished himself by his gallantry, and the authorities, when they were asked for the necessary permission for the dying Belgian woman to be taken back to her home in ruined Ypres gave immediate consent.

It was then a English medical officer in the service of the Belgian army to whom the feeble old lady owed it that she had made this last journey. He had her bed placed in an ambulance car and, with a nurse to attend her during the journey, he drove her himself into Ypres and took her back to her old home. And there, attended by one or two friends who have returned to Ypres, she attained her wish.

Two million fruit trees, occupying between 25,000 and 30,000 acres, mostly irrigated land, are being planted in the various districts of eastern Washington and Oregon, Idaho and western Montana.

Fortified Tires Now in the Light

The supreme test of a tire is to hold top place—the place in the sun—and for years. Goodyear tires have done that. Long they have led, both in sales and prestige.

Men expect much of the top place tire. They look for a superior tire in it. Any seeming fault, due to mishap or misuse, becomes a defect in this glare.

But Goodyear Fortified Tires, after years in this light, hold higher place than ever. Last year men bought 1,479,883 Goodyears of the pleasure-car type alone. That's about one tire for every car in use.

Who Is Wrong?

Is it the Goodyear user, whose choice is confirmed by some 400,000 others? Or is it the man who still assumes that another tire is better?

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 4.—Wheat prices rallied today after a decline at the start. Development of strength resulted from the fact that the seaboard had advanced bids on spot cash delivery and from the absence of any sign that rural offerings were likely to become more free. The opening, which was 1/4c to 1/2c lower, was followed by a rise to well above last night's level. Corn stayed with wheat. Trade was light. After opening unchanged to 1/4c off, the market scored a moderate advance. Active demand from the east gave independent firmness to oats. Sellers were scarce. Lower quotations for hogs had a depressing effect on provisions. Later, however, the upturn in grain began to tell against the bears.

MORE BAD CHECKS TURN UP IN CITY

J. D. Warren Cashes About $60 All Told and Gets Away With It.

The police are trying to get their hands on one J. D. Warren, a saunter, gentleman of the age of 30 or thereabouts, and several Fort Wayne persons hope they will. Warren, who had been about town for some time representing himself as the agent of a tree-spraying device, made three checks for a total of $40 look like regular money to Joseph Stahl, of the Randall hotel bar, and he got the cash for them all in one day. One check was for $10 and the other two for $15 each. All were drawn on a bank at Montgomery Mich. While busy in this line Warren bethought himself of the need of a new suit of togger and he conferred the favor of his patronage on the Duke's Clothing company on Calhoun street. A check for $14 procured his fresh outfit of scenery at that shop. He asked that his old suit be nicely packed for him and it was. He said he would call later for it, but did not say how much later and it looks as though it might be a long time for Michigan sleuths are panting on the trail of Warren for forgery jobs at Jackson and at Hillsdale. If they get to him before the Fort Wayne police do, Mr. Warren will probably make a considerable sojourn in the Wolverine state. From all accounts Warren is identical with one J. B. Harp, who floated a forged check at the Mosher hotel in Hillsdale, in which city he represented himself as a traveling salesman for the firm of S. Bash and company in Fort Wayne.

SOME FINE TEAM WORK

Lanning and Kenny Keep Themselves in Brotherly Touch.

As an example of practiced team work John Kenny and Fred Lanning are hard to head at any stage. The pair drifted into Fort Wayne a few days ago, got soured and then got arrested. They told Judge Kerr in the city court that they were a pair of stack-painters doing partnership business and hailed from nowhere in particular, but were en route to North Manchester, where they had a job awaiting them. They were detained a day or two for investigation and released. Two days ago Kenny was dragged in drunk and went over for eleven days. Lanning didn't know where he was but did know how to find him so he got drunk and ran himself into a policeman. He appeared in the city court Thursday morning and drew fifteen days. The partners are reunited. Percy Murtiff, who heaved himself and his house aboard a locomotive in the Wabash railway yards Wednesday evening, and refused to climb down when the engineer and fireman told him to, was booked for drunkenness and continued until Saturday. Steve O'Leary, charged with drunkenness, was given another continuance and will be held until March 4. He is under investigation.

CRAWLED ON HIS HANDS AND KNEES

South Bend Man's Condition Such He Could Not Work for Eight Weeks—Crawled About on His Hands and Knees.

Could one contemplate a more pitiful sight than a strong man, shorn of his manly strength and vigor, unable to stand erect, wrecked and crippled physically, due to the great modern uric acid plague termed rheumatism? Those who are now suffering from acute and even mild forms of rheumatism should stop and consider the countless number of human beings who are today incurable cripples, whose cases have become hopeless, and whose days mean to them naught but cycles of pain and suffering, and then ask themselves the question, does it pay for me to neglect my own case.

The following letter received by Dr. Bartlett, the specialist in charge of the Inter-State Doctors' Fort Wayne Institute, located on the second floor at 205 West Berry street, should impress all rheumatic sufferers with the masterful manner in which this specialist administers treatment in this class of cases:

South Bend, Ind.

Dr. S. M. Bartlett, South Bend, Ind.

Dear Doctor:—For seven months before coming to your office I suffered with rheumatism in my arms and legs. It grew so bad that I was forced to lay off from my work for eight weeks. Then I improved some and was able to return to my work, but could only work one or two days a week.

At last I saw so many accounts in the daily papers of the good you were doing the people, that I decided to give you a trial. At times my condition was so bad that I could only be about the house by crawling on my hands and knees.

I am pleased to say that after treating with you a short time I am now able to work every day, and am having no trouble whatever.

I should be glad to have you make this letter public, as I am very thankful for what you have done for me. Jacks Pawlaka, 182 1/2 Kosciuszko St.

ICE-PLAGUED MEASURES OF WILSON HAVE FAILED

FIFTY WARSHIPS MAKING DARDANELLES AN INFERNO

CONGRESS ADJOURNS AFTER RAPID WORK

Impressive Scenes of Farewell Mark End of Historic Session of National Law-Makers.

PRESIDENT WILSON ON CONGRESS AND ITS WORK.

Washington, March 4.—After his return to the white house President Wilson dictated the following statement about congress and its work: "A great congress has closed its session. Its work will prove the purpose and quality of its statesmanship, more and more, the longer it is tested. Business has now a time of calm and thoughtful adjustment before it, disturbed only by the European war. The circumstances created by the war put the nation to a special test, a test of its true character and of its self-control. "The constant thought of every patriotic man should be for the country, its peace, its order, its just and tempered judgment in the face of perplexing difficulties. Its difficulty and its strength alike will appear not only in the revival of its business, despite abnormal conditions, but also in its power to think to purpose and to act with patience, with disinterested fairness and without excitement, in a spirit of friendliness and enlightenment which will firmly establish its influence throughout the world."

Say Words of Farewell.
Senator Simmons paid a tribute to Senator Perkins, of California, who retired at noon. Senator Perkins sat for a moment in contemplation of the tribute. Then he slowly half rose from his seat, feebly waved his hand toward the North Carolina senator and his colleagues in a gesture of farewell, and then took his seat, again too overcome with emotion to speak.

Tributes to Colleagues.
The last hour in the house was devoted to tributes to Speaker Clark, Representative Underwood and Republican Leader Mann. Representative Palmer announced the presentation of a portrait of Mr. Underwood to be hung in the hall of the ways and means committee. In doing so Mr. Palmer said: "There is no doubt Mr. Underwood soon will be the leader in the senate. He is one of the greatest Americans in his time."

WILL DEDICATE NEW STATUARY ON SUNDAY

St. Paul's Church is Given Memorial to Late I. Freiburger.

The interior of the St. Paul's Catholic church has been thoroughly renovated and the walls and ceiling have been redecorated and on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. Father Kroll, pastor of the congregation will conduct special services when the new statuary will be dedicated. The new statuary includes a large figure of the Sorrowful Mother of Christ, presented to the church by the Freiburger family in commemoration of the late Ignatius Freiburger, a new baptismal font, and new holywater receptacles.

The statue is made of a composition which resembles marble in all respects and is eleven feet high and stands on a pedestal four by six feet in size and was made by a firm in Chicago. The coloring was done by the famous Munich artists in Chicago and is considered one of the most beautiful pieces of work ever put out by the firm. The baptismal font and the holy water receptacles are made of the same material as the statuary. The scene that is portrayed is the one which is related in the bible when the body of Jesus was taken from the cross, previous to burial and was laid in the arms of his mother, Mary.

Official Text of German Reply is Now Made Public

Washington, March 4.—The official text of the German government's reply to the American note suggesting that Germany and Great Britain agree on a plan to lessen danger to neutral shipping in the war zone, was made public here today. It follows: "The imperial German government has taken note with great interest of the suggestion of the American government that certain principles for the conduct of maritime warfare between Germany and England be agreed upon for the protection of neutral shipping. They see therein new evidence of the friendly feeling of the American government toward the German government which are fully reciprocated by Germany. "It is in accordance with Germany's wishes also to have maritime war conducted according to rules which without discriminatingly restricting one or the other of the belligerent powers in the use of their means of warfare are equally considerate of the interests of neutrals and the dictates of humanity. Consequently it was intimated in the German note of the sixteenth instant that observation of the declaration of London on the part of Germany's adversaries would create a new situation from which the German government would gladly draw the proper conclusions. "Proceeding from this view the German government has carefully examined the suggestion of the American government and believes that they can actually see in it a suitable basis for the

NEW YORK ANARCHIST BOMB PLOT — FIGURES IN FRUSTRATED SCHEME TO WRECK CHURCH AND KILL MILLIONAIRES.

BASH SELLS BANK BLOCK

Mayor Spohn, of Goshen, is New Owner of Valuable Property.

PRICE IS SAID TO HAVE BEEN $80,000
Rumor That a Modern Office Building Will Replace Old Structure.

After negotiations pending for several weeks, Mayor Spohn, of Goshen, closed a deal Wednesday with Charles S. Bash for the purchase of the old bank block at Main and Court streets, for a consideration said to have been $80,000.

According to statements made by Mayor Spohn before returning to his home in Goshen, he intends to convert the structure into a modern office building. A number of improvements are contemplated, it is understood, which will greatly improve the appearance of that part of Fort Wayne's business section.

For several weeks the deal for the purchase of the building has been pending, but not until Wednesday were the necessary papers signed cinching it. An Old Landmark.

The old bank building is one of Fort Wayne's landmarks and is within 100 feet of the Allen county court house. The property consists of five business rooms and a roof garden and is now fully tenanted. It is regarded as one of the finest business property propositions.

BAD BANKING ALONE CAUSED BANK CRASH

Washington, March 4.—Comptroller Williams in a formal statement today declared bad management was the cause of the failure of the German National Bank of Pittsburgh. He announced that the capital and surplus of the bank have been wiped out but that it is too early to forecast how much will be paid depositors.

BULLETIN.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 4.—After almost two hours debate, it was decided to pass the Van Auker compromise primary bill by the democratic senate caucus this afternoon. The vote was 23 to 4 and was taken after five senators had bolted, declaring they would not be bound by the caucus action. The four who voted against the bill are Senators Culbertson, McCormick, Faulkner and Humphries. It was said that the rules would be suspended and the measure rushed through the senate this afternoon and sent to the house.

BALLOU BOLTS THE DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

Lagrange Senator Refuses to Be Bound by Primary Law Action.

Indianapolis, March 4.—Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon Senator Ballou, who is leading the direct primary forces during the illness of Senator Rinear, left the democratic senate caucus declaring he would not be bound by any action the caucus might take on the primary law and told the members what he thought of them for bolting the democratic state platform.

He declared that he had asked Lieut. Gov. O'Neill several times to hand down the primary bill this morning and that the lieutenant governor had said he would, but didn't do it. Mr. Ballou said the direct primary bill had sufficient supporters, aided by the republicans, to defeat any bill that might be reported by the caucus, if it did not fulfill the party platform pledge.

Senators Reidlebach and Adams soon followed Ballou in bolting the caucus.

FLOOD DANGER AGAIN NEARS.

Arkansas River is Rising at Very Rapid Rate.

Fort Smith, Ark., March 4.—The government weather bureau announced today that the Arkansas river here would reach a stage of 22 feet—the flood stage—by tomorrow night. The river is rising two inches an hour and has risen four and one-half feet in the last 21 hours. Rain continues to fall and it is reported that snow and rain is falling along the entire Arkansas water shed.

SENATE PROVIDES ANTI-LOBBY PROBE

Chambers Declares State Printers Guilty of Improper Lobbying.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 4.—With the adjournment of the legislature only three days off, Senator Chambers' resolution calling for an investigation of alleged violations of the anti-lobby law was adopted immediately following its introduction in the upper house today. A joint committee, it is provided, shall conduct the inquiry and is given power to summon witnesses.

The resolution was introduced following an attack made by Senator Chambers on the present state printers, whom he said have been guilty of improper lobbying against the Chambers bill to classify state printing and let contracts to more than one printer.

Four Sent to Governor. Business in the house consisted of the passage of four measures providing flood relief, which were sent to the governor, they already having been passed by the senate. In the senate the same was made a caucus measure last night and which was to have been handed down the first thing this morning, was held over until afternoon while minor business was disposed of.

After an hour's recess at noon the senate democrats went into caucus to

WHEAT TAKES SLUMP IN FINAL TRADING

Chicago, March 4.—Wheat prices made a sudden downward plunge today in the last fifteen minutes of trading. Reports were current that millions of dollars worth of orders for war supplies, mostly arms and ammunition, had been cancelled in the last 48 hours. Although confirmation of the reports was lacking the market broke to a point 7 1/2c under last night. The May delivery touching $1.37, as against $1.45 1/2 at the same option 24 hours previous. At the extreme low point the price showed a drop of 30 cents a bushel since the highest war level, $1.67 on Feb. 5. Final trading was active.

ALL TRIPLE ENTENTE FLAGS NOW IN FIGHT

Russian Cruiser Joins French and English Sea Fighters Battering Way to Constantinople.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The official German statement of today says that French attacks in the west were repulsed easily. The French statement asserts that violent assaults by the Germans were defeated. North of Arras near the Belgian border, the Germans captured positions of the allies which they say were nearly a mile in extent.

Russian attacks near the Prussian border are said by the Germans to have failed. The German efforts to capture Ossowetz have resulted in a violent battle with no decision yet in sight.

More than fifty warships of the allies, now including a Russian cruiser, are now engaged in the effort to batter a way through the Dardanelles for the capture of Constantinople.

London, March 4.—(12:28 p. m.)—The interest of British readers in the Russian campaign has again shifted to the extreme southern portion of the line of battle, where Petrograd reports that Gen. Brussiloff has won a noteworthy victory south of Baligrad, inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians who were again pressing north to the relief of Przemyel.

At the same time an unofficial dispatch from Bucharest credits the Russian forces with the re-occupation of Stanislaw, in Galicia, about 60 miles from Larnopol. Vienna reports the repulse of desperate Russian counter attacks in the Carpathians, with comparative inactivity along the remainder of the line.

On the western front, in France and Belgium, the French now appear to be content to hold the positions they claim to have won in the Champagne district. Shelling Turkish Position.

While the British battleships are battering fort number 8 and fort number ber 9, in the narrows of the Dardanelles from a point ten miles within the entrance of the straits French warships from the gulf of Saros are bombarding the Turkish positions at Bulair.

A report has been current in London that certain big Krupp guns recently sent to the Dardanelles are still unmounted, and an aerial reconnaissance made over the straits last evening seems to have confirmed this report.

Show All Entente Colors.

The battleships of the allies, which now show all the colors of the Triple Entente by the addition of the Russian cruiser Askold, undoubtedly have turned the straits of the Dardanelles into an inferno, which according to British and French claims, has spelled destruction to the Turkish defenses.

On the other hand, reports from Constantinople deride this activity as ineffective. The Turks, however, do admit the destruction of the outer forts which they say they expected but they declare the inner works impregnable. The Turks rely on mines, but mine sweepers of the allies have been busy within a mile and a half of the forts, destroying a Turkish mine field detected by a sharp eyed aviator.

Over Fifty Ships in Fleet.

Among other reinforcements which are said now to make the fleet of the Dardanelles number over fifty ships is the British battleship Canopus, last heard of as anchored off the Falkland islands. In the Falkland islands fight the Canopus fired the first shot at the German squadron under the command of Admiral von Spee. The only craft either French or British that has been compelled to withdraw from the action is the British torpedo boat destroyer Zephyr, built 20 years ago.

In the political field it would appear that other neutrals are awaiting the lead of the United States before embarking on any course of action imposed by Premier Asquith's announcement of the retaliatory policy of the allies. Meanwhile British newspapers are expressing some uneasiness because of the unfavorable impression the premier's announcement has made.

POLICE WORKING ON MANY OTHER PLOTS

Arrests Do Not Clear Up Anarchist Menace in New York.

New York, March 4.—The existence of many plots on which the police have been working was made known today in a statement by Arthur Wood, police commissioner, in commenting on the indictment by the grand jury of Frank Abarno and Charles Carbone charged with attempting to explode a bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral on Tuesday.

Commissioner Wood said that so far as this case is concerned it does not go beyond Abarno and Carbone but that there were other plots and other men which the police were watching. The commissioner indicated that Amado Polignani the young patrolman responsible for the arrest of Abarno and Carbone, would have a part in exposing other bomb plots.

Justification for placing the bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral was summed up by Abarno when arraigned yesterday with the brief statement that: "We wanted to put a bomb in some rich neighborhood so that the rich would understand the sorrows of the poor."

"I plead guilty to the act," Abarno said when asked to plead. "But I did not mean to do any harm. I was there but it was all the idea of this other man," referring to Polignani, the patrolman. Carbone entered a plea of not guilty.

District Attorney Perkins stated today that he would move to have Abarno and Carbone tried as soon as possible. The men will be brought into court again tomorrow when their pleas will be formally entered and counsel assigned to them if they have not made other arrangements for their defense before that time.

SNOW, RAIN, SLEET COVER A WIDE AREA

Kansas City, Mo., March 4.—Snow, rain and sleet fell last night and today over most of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma and parts of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana according to the local weather bureau. The snow, centering in the northern states ranged in depth from two inches in Kansas City to nine inches in central Kansas and eleven inches in North Platte, Neb. A driving wind from the northeast accompanied the storm in most sections, causing the snow to drift and tearing down telegraph and telephone poles, greatly hampering wire and rail communication. Street car traffic in several cities was also interfered with.

ASQUITH REFUSES TO THROW FURTHER LIGHT

London, March 4.—(3:45 p. m.) Premier Asquith declined today to throw further light on the nature of the measures to be adopted by Great Britain and her allies in pursuance of their announced intention of cutting off trade to and from Germany. Speaking in the house of commons, the premier said: The intention of the government will be apparent when the orders in council on the subjects are published.

LOCAL MAN SAYS WIFE COMPLETELY RUN DOWN

Mrs. McKinzie Says That Herbal Lax-A-Tone Restored Her Strength and Quickly Too.

Have you noticed, said the Herb Lax-A-Tone man at Dreier Drug Co., 528 Calhoun street, that I am publishing names of people right here in Fort Wayne and not in some far off city. It is to show the people here that they can investigate our claims.

Mrs. D. McKinzie, whose address is box No. 11, R. F. D. 10, says that his wife was in a run down condition and needed a tonic to pick her up. She had tried many different preparations, but could get no results at all, but was surprised at the results she received from Herbal Lax-A-Tone, the first bottle done her more good than all the others combined.

If you have stomach trouble, indigestion with your stomach belching gas, bloating, headaches, constipation, lack of energy, listlessness and sore back with weak kidneys, try this great tonic.

The Herb Lax-A-Tone man is at Dreier Drug Co., 528 Calhoun street, where he is introducing this remedy. Mail orders solicited.—Adv.

INCREASES SCOPE OF WILSON'S POWER

Resolution Gives President New Check on Neutrality Violations.

Washington, March 4.—All that was needed today to enlarge the power of President Wilson to prevent violations of American neutrality by vessels leaving United States ports with men or supplies for belligerent warships was the president's approval of a joint resolution of congress. The resolution, a substitute for that previously passed by the house, was unanimously adopted by the senate early today following a conference at the white house last night between President Wilson and members of the foreign relations committee of the senate and house and others. It was later agreed to by the house and today only awaited President Wilson's signature to make it a law.

As finally passed the resolution differs in some essential particulars from the original house measure. It has the hearty support of state department officials who pointed out the immediate need of its passage because of the "critical situation" resulting from the European war.

The resolution becomes effectively upon being signed by the president and will continue during the existence of the European war. The resolution empowers the president to direct customs collectors to withhold clearance from any vessel of American or foreign register or license which the president believes "about to carry fuel, arms, ammunition men or supplies to any airship, or tender, or supply ship of a belligerent nation in violation of the obligations of the United States as a neutral nation." If such a vessel sailed or attempted to sail without clearance a fine of from $2,000 to $10,000, imprisonment of two years, or both, and for failure the vessel would be impounded. The president is empowered to use the military forces of the country to enforce the law.

LITTLE HOPE LEFT FOR ENTOMBED MEN

But Miners' Friends Eagerly Await News from the Rescue Crews.

Hinton, W. Va., March 4.—High up on Quinimont mountain scores of anxious persons, the families and friends of the miners entombed by the explosion in Layland mine last Tuesday, still waited anxiously today for news from the rescue crews. They knew in a general way the main entry of mine had been cleared of afterdamp and the rescuers were gradually working their way through cross entries and rooms in search of bodies, but with what success they were kept in ignorance. There was a rush toward the shattered opening of the mine when word came that five more bodies had been found, and a rumor spread that other bodies had been located and likely could be brought out before evening. Eight bodies will be brought here for burial tonight.

There was still much confusion as to the number of men who entered Tuesday morning. After canvassing the situation the company made known the names of 177 who were employed in the workings effected. Whether all of them were at work when the explosion occurred officers of the company admitted they were unable to say, but the opinion prevailed that perhaps 20 had escaped the disaster.

Little hope is now entertained that any of the buried men are still alive. Engineers of the bureau of mines and state mining departments have found evidence that the explosion was very violent and the entire badly choked with debris.

The rescue parties made rapid progress during the morning and fresh air was forced far into the workings. At noon it was announced that 35 bodies had been recovered and it was thought that rapid progress in exploring the mine would be made during the afternoon. A strong force of deputy sheriffs kept back the crowds.

NEW YORK CITY FLAG LIKE FLAG OF 1626

New York, March 4.—A new city flag chosen by the municipal art commission which is the same except for a few minor changes, as the banner that floated over the Island of Manhattan when in 1626 New Amsterdam was settled by the Dutch. At present the city has a white flag bearing the city seal in dark blue. It never was officially adopted and has been objected to as lacking distinction and historical association. The new flag is orange white and blue arranged in perpendicular bars of equal dimension bearing the seal of the city in blue upon the middle or white bar.

HOT CONTEST OVER WILL IS SETTLED

Superior Court Holds Will of Adams County Man is Invalid.

After a long, hard fight and two mistrials—one in Adams county and the other in Allen county courts, the principals in the suit of Isaac Williamson vs. Andrew Cootsclark, executor of the last will and testament of the late William Swartz, of Adams county, agreed to waive the intervention of a jury and submit the case to Judge Vayle in the superior court of this county and on Thursday he rendered judgment holding that the alleged will in issue was not the last will and testament of the decedent Swartz and was therefore invalid and of no effect. The estate involved is worth $20,000. After an Adams county jury disagreed in the first attempt to have the will declared invalid the case was sent to the Allen superior court, where it was on trial for eight days. The jury here also disagreed.

Prosecutor Pleads for Conviction.

The case of the state against Ursula Lohmeyer, charged with manslaughter for the death of her two-year-old son, last summer in Fort Wayne, was submitted to Judge John W. Eggeman in the circuit court late Thursday afternoon. The defense was insanity and Herbert L. Somers, counsel for Mrs. Lohmeyer, introduced much expert testimony to prove that at the time Mrs. Lohmeyer was practicing shocking cruelties upon her child she was not mentally responsible. The testimony in the case was concluded at 11 o'clock Thursday and prosecuting Attorney Harry H. Higginman made the closing argument in the afternoon.

Fairy Mae Wallmark Sues.

That John Edward Wallmark in no wise appreciated what he had in the possession of Fairy Mae Wallmark for his wife is more than indicated by the allegations she makes to the superior court in her complaint for divorce. They were married in October, 1908, and separated in the same month, 1914, at which time she says his conduct became such she could no longer live with him. She charges that soon after marriage he began to fail and refuse to make reasonable provision for the support of herself and son, now aged 7 years, and that since May, 1913, has not provided life's necessities for them, in consequence of which delinquency she has been compelled to work in the laundries, restaurants and hotels of Fort Wayne for sustenance for herself and son. She further charges that he visited rooming houses in Toledo, Indianapolis and Fort Wayne with women of questionable character, spent most of his time and money on women in cafes, was out all night, admitted to her his companionship with bad women and that on one occasion he went to a place "at the old golf grounds" where he drank wine and had a good time with a lady friend. She asks for the restoration of her maiden name.

Was Deserted in Short Time.

Dora Shaffer, who gives her residence as Monroe township, Allen county, brings suit in the superior court for divorce from Louis E. Shaffer, to whom she says she was married January 25, 1910, and by whom she was deserted May 28, the same year. A child that is now to her died. The defendant is a non-resident of Indiana.

Notes of the Courts.

Edwin Junghaus has brought suit in the superior court against the Mance Brick and Tile company for the appointment of a receiver and Judge Vayle has named John Snelzer, Jr., to act in that capacity. The complaint says the company owes $20,000, that suits against it are now pending in court and others are threatened. The plaintiff is a stockholder and to the extent of $240 a creditor of the concern.

Frank E. Stonder and Byron H. Barnett, owners of the New Palace, Temple and Lyric theaters, have brought suit in the superior court against George A. Harrison for $1,000 damages and for an injunction to restrain him from drawing his deposits from the German-American National bank. The defendant last November contracted with the plaintiffs to manage the Temple theater for $35 weekly salary and one-third of the net profits. The complaint alleges that Harrison has drawn out from the receipts of the house $124.25 that he never has accounted for. When the restraining order was served on the German-American bank Wednesday afternoon, it was found that the defendant had anticipated such action and had assigned his deposits to his wife. Thursday Attorney Stephen A. Callahan for the plaintiffs then filed a third paragraph of his complaint, charging that in the assignment of the Harrison account, there had been collusion and fraud and obtained another order of court restraining the bank from paying the money out to the assignee.

Albert Custard and Albert Bondi have brought suit in the superior court against Clement L. Casady to foreclose a lien on an automobile, demanding $96.45.

The Tri-State Loan and Trust company, as receiver for the Kerr Manufacturing company, has filed a report in the circuit court showing that it has on hand $16,652, out of which it asks permission to pay a salary of $500 and attorney's fees. The receiver also asks that a dividend be declared and ordered paid by the receiver, for which the money in hand, after deducting the sums stated, will be sufficient.

Clarence Staley has and William Schenck et al. in the superior court to collect $125 for the death of a horse.

BOWLES OPPOSES ASQUITH POLICY

Former Member of English Parliament Takes a Rap at Premier.

London, March 4.—(11:36 a. m.)—Thomas Gibson Bowles, former member of parliament and a writer on naval matters, in an address before the institute of ship brokers in London expressed with much emphasis his inability to understand the policy of reprisals against Germany outlined by Premier Asquith in his speech in the house of commons. Mr. Bowles said:

"What is to happen to cargoes of enemy ownership, origin and destination which are brought into port? They are not to be confiscated; this is expressly declared. Are they to be purchased by the captors, according to the doctrine of pre-emption, with ten per cent compensation for delay?"

If the latter course was pursued, Mr. Bowles pointed out, Great Britain would trade with Germany on a large scale. If pre-emption was not to be resorted to, Mr. Bowles asked if seized goods would be held in trust.

The speaker criticized the Asquith policy in that, so far as it has been outlined, it neglects to conform to the common law which protects neutral traders. He further objected to the premier's policy because it does not inflict maximum damage upon the enemy by confiscating the enemy's goods found in neutral ships.

SMUGGLER PLEADS GUILTY.

Samuel Salevy Pays Fine of $2,500 in San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 4.—Samuel Salevy, arrested here Jan. 15 by customs officers and charged with smuggling diamonds valued at $25,000 into the United States from Mexico, pleaded guilty today in the United States district court and paid a fine of $2,000. These jewels, it was found, were the property of the wife of General Irujo, of Carranza's army, who had committed them to Salevy so that he could send them to the United States to raise funds for the maintenance of an orphanage in Mexico where 200 children, whose fathers had been killed in the war, were starving. It is said that the jewels will probably be returned to Salevy.

OFFICIAL TEXT OF GERMAN REPLY IS NOW MADE PUBLIC

able any action of the submarines in accordance with the international law.

"Fourth: The regulation of legitimate importations of food into Germany suggested by the American government appears to be in general acceptable. Such regulation would of course, be confined to importations by sea, but that would on the other hand include indirect importations by way of neutral ports. The German government would, therefore, be willing to make the declarations of the nature provided in the American note so that imported food and food stuffs solely by the non-combatant population would be guaranteed. The imperial government must, however, in addition, emphasize having the importation of other raw materials used by the economic system of non-combatants including forage, permitted. To that end the enemy governments would have to permit the free entry to Germany of the raw material mentioned in the free list of conditional contraband according to the same principles as food and food stuffs.

The German government ventures to hope that the agreement for which the American government has paved the way may be reached after due consideration of the remarks made above and that in this way peaceable neutral shipping and trade will not have to suffer any more than is absolutely necessary. The effects could be still further reduced if it was pointed out in the German note of the 16th instant if some way could be found to exclude the shipping of munitions of war from neutral countries to belligerents on ships of any nationality.

"The German government must, of course, reserve a definite statement of their position until such time as they may receive further information from the American government enabling them to see what obligations the British government are on their part willing to assume."

Arrangements are being made by the Lincoln Republican club to bring a prominent speaker to Fort Wayne in the near future for the purpose of delivering an old-time republican speech.

In the senate some senators who are retiring from public life made farewell addresses.

Careful consideration of the public interest in conservation legislation and the development of a larger spirit of unity between the United States and foreign nations, particularly those of Central and South America, was urged by Senator Burton, who was ending twenty-two years service in congress. Instead of giving so much attention to questions of state rights and national control, he urged senators hereafter to consider first the public interests.

Cheers for Speaker Clark.

The tribute to Speaker Clark was led by Republican Leader Mann, who eulogized the "able and lovable speaker" and presented a resolution thanking him for his services. It was passed as the house rose to its feet with a tumult of applause and cheering. When it subsided the speaker said:

"The multiplicity of honors and kindness that this house has heaped on me goes straight to my heart."

Mr. Clark paid a tribute to Leader Mann, Representative Murdock and Representative Underwood and said in conclusion: "I hope every member of the house will enjoy this long vacation, if in the providence of God it turn out to be a long one."

"And I hope the blessings of God may rest upon each and every one, those who are to come back as well as those who are to retire to private life. And may God bless us every one."

The Indian bill failed in congress after all today. After the senate had once rejected and then reversed its action and passed it, the house refused to agree and a joint resolution extending current appropriations for another year was allowed to stand.

Settled Down to Wait.

The house, cleaning its slate before 10 o'clock, settled down to wait for noon. Democratic Leader Underwood making his last speech on the floor— for he goes to the senate in the 6th congress—declared the house had done its work and it would not be the fault of that body if the government's finances were not cared for.

The senate after concurring with the house Indian and postal appropriations went into executive session to work on nominations.

President Wilson went to the capitol at 10 o'clock and promptly began signing the accumulation of bills and resolutions. All hope of passing the ship bill, the Philippine bill or the conservation measures had been abandoned and while the president worked, both houses marked time for the hands of the clock to touch twelve, noon.

Sent to Graveyard.

As the roll of the more important bills was called in the house requests of "Let it go over" from the floor sent them one by one into the legislative graveyard. They must be reintroduced if they are to be renewed in the 64th congress. In the galleries a few of the faithful lingered during the night, some perhaps held by personal interest in this or that bill and hoping for an eleventh hour miracle; others kept out of the beds by curiosity alone. Crowded galleries are the rule in the last hour of any congress and every seat among the spectators' benches was filled until a late hour last night. The crowds began to return early today hoping for something to reward their patience.

At 3:45 an agreement was made not to consider anything but the Indian conference report and the postoffice bill. The Indian bill was then taken up and all but a few persons left the chamber to catch a short nap. At that time there had been passed by unanimous consent bills already agreed to by the house providing for a standard apple barrel and locomotive commission. Senator Marine made futile attempts to secure consideration of a bill creating a bureau of labor safety.

The house at 4:20 took a fifteen minutes recess and the members then organized the usual chorus and sang "God Time" and other songs, including "Good Bye My Lover Good Bye," "Way Down Yonder in the Corn Field," "Annie Laurie," etc. Rev. Helin, of Alabama, amused the members by telling darky stories. When the recess was taken the house had been in continuous session for 18 hours and fifty minutes.

When the house re-assembled at 9 o'clock the failure of the Indian and postoffice bills in the senate was regarded as so certain that a resolution was passed extending the present appropriations over the next fiscal year.

In the Senate.

In the senate another attempt to break the opposition to the Indian bill failed and some republican senators gave notice they would talk the post-office bill to death.

Last year's appropriations, which under the house resolution, would continue another year, were $311,000,000 for the postal bill and $9,700,000 for the Indian bill. President Wilson kept "open house" and a steady procession of senators and representatives of all parties went from the capitol to the white house to shake hands with the president and say good bye.

After the Indian and postoffice appropriation resolutions had been passed in the house, Majority Leader Underwood made the following statement: "The house has attended to all the public business that it had to attend to. It has disposed of all the appropriation bills which came before it or could come before it. If the finances of the government are not taken care of now, it will not be the fault of the house."

Shortly after 10 o'clock President Wilson left the white house and went to his room on the senate side of the capitol to sign bills and meet congressmen in the closing hours.

The Compensation Bill.

The compensation bill was to be amended in the senate to conform to the statute of limitations. The house it was objected, reduced by six months the time under which suits for damages for death or injury could be brought under the amendment, was agreed to in caucus last night to correct this provision. It was also agreed by amendment to extend the time for taking an appeal from the decision of the board of awards from seven to thirty days. These were the only changes of importance that were to be made in the bill as it was passed by the house. The bill provides that there shall be a state board of awards appointed by the governor with power to administer the provisions of the law. The maximum amount of compensation a workman may receive is limited to 55 per cent. of his weekly wage, and compensation stops after the injured employee has benefited to the amount of $5,000. Dependent relatives are entitled to receive not more than $13,500 following the death of an employee. The same bill leaves it optional with the employer as to where he will carry his insurance.

ALL TRIPLE ENTENTE FLAGS NOW IN FIGHT

announcement seems to have made upon American public opinion.

CAPTURE FRENCH POSITIONS.

Berlin Reports German Successes on Heights of Lorette.

Berlin, March 4.—The developments in the war are reported as follows in a statement issued at the war office:

"Western theater of war.—On the heights of Lorette, northwest of Arras our troops early yesterday morning occupied positions of the enemy 1,600 meters (nearly one mile) wide, capturing officers, 568 French soldiers, seven machine guns and several small cannon. Hostile counter attacks during the afternoon failed."

Renewed French Attacks in Champagne were easily repulsed.

A French attack in the Argonne, west of St. Hubert, failed. Counter attacking, we occupied a French trench. In Cheppy wood also a French attack failed.

"One of the recent communications from the Eiffel tower declared that a German column while marching across the height of Tabure (northwest of Soissons) was successfully held. We must confirm the accuracy of this announcement. The column consisted of French prisoners who were being led away and suffered a loss of 38 killed or wounded."

"Eastern theater of war.—Russian attacks northeast of Grodno led them into a flank fire from our artillery, and failed. Northeast of Lomza Russian attacks broke down with severe losses. In the region south of Mysyniec and Chazallen and northwest of Prasnysz the Russians again attacked. On the remainder of the front there was no change."

GERMAN TRENCHES DEMOLISHED.

Paris Account Says German Attack is Very Violent.

Paris, March 4.—This afternoon's statement from the war office is as follows:

"In Belgium, on the dunes, our artillery demolished trenches of the enemy. To the north of Arras, near Notre Dame de Lorette, the enemy captured an advanced trench recently constructed by us in immediate contact with the German lines."

"The bombardment of Rheims lasted all day, a shell falling every three minutes."

"In Champagne it is confirmed that the German counter attacks against the crest taken by us to the northeast of Meuil were of a very violent character. Two regiments of the Guards fought with great ferocity. The defeat of these efforts has been complete."

"There has been a cannonade in the Argonne, with fresh progress on our part in the region of Vauquois."

A supplementary statement was issued later as follows: "Captain Happe, one of our aviators, bombarded on Wednesday a German powder magazine at Rortelweil, 23 kilometers north of Donauschingen. His success was complete. Ten minutes after he had thrown bombs the powder magazine was afire."

In Fort Wayne, being most ideally incited.

Mr. Bash, who is ill at his home, 1114 West Wayne street, admitted over the telephone Thursday morning to a Sentinel representative that he had disposed of the property, but was unable to give any information as to what Navy or Spohn intends to do with it. He gave it as his opinion that the new owner would not care to disclose the amount of the consideration, but it is understood on good authority that $80,000 is not far wrong.

FLOOD RELIEF PASSES HOUSE

try and reach an agreement on a direct primary measure.

Senator Jackson's bill providing that nine members of a jury in a civil case might return a verdict when such an agreement was made at the opening of the trial was the only measure passed in the senate. An amendment to the Barrett assessment law introduced by Representative Wyss, of Fort Wayne which provides for regulation of assessment payments by installment and offering an opportunity for payment in a lump sum without payment of interest in full, failed to receive a constitutional majority.

Takes Issue With Ralston.

Representative Niblack took issue with Governor Ralston in his stand not to receive any bills which are passed after Friday midnight, except those at his own option. The governor, Mr. Niblack gave it as his opinion that any measure ordered sent to the governor up to Saturday midnight would have to be considered by him. The governor's action was due to a provision of the constitution which requires that bills must be received by him within two days of the date of adjournment if they are to receive executive approval. The governor did not regard Sunday as a legislative day, while Mr. Niblack said it is.

Fort Wayne Bill Passes.

Flood relief measures, introduced by Senator Van Aken in behalf of the city of Fort Wayne, and by Senator Mercer in behalf of Peru, were passed in the house. Two bills providing for repair and maintenance of ditches and drains, regarded as of much importance in rural communities were also ordered sent to the governor.

In order to meet objections of Gov. Ralston to two bills, which he vetoed on the ground of their being local legislation Representative E. K. Davis introduced a bill providing that the advisory board of any township be authorized to levy a tax on all property in a township including incorporated towns, in order to raise funds for township purposes. The rules were suspended and the bill was passed.

Stirs Up Opposition.

When Representative Strange's bill providing the state code the soldiers' home at Marion to the United States and that inmates be required to comply with certain conditions in order to vote, was considered and great opposition to it developed.

Members denounced the measure as being for the purpose of preventing soldiers from voting in Grant county. Among measures reported for passage by house committees today was the Stotsenburg amendments to the constitution as passed by the senate.

A telegram to the local Wabash officials this afternoon stated that some of the higher officials of the C. The party will remain here over night and go to Toledo over the Wabash tomorrow morning, leaving Fort Wayne at 7 o'clock. State Dissatisfied With Overturning of Anti-Allen Law.

Washington, March 4.—The state of Arizona appealed to the supreme court today from the decision of the federal district court which held unconstitutional the Arizona anti-alien employment law, against which Great Britain and Italy had protested as a violation of treaty rights.

Chicago, March 4.—Mordecai Brown, former pitcher for the Chicago Nationals, who last year managed the St. Louis Federals and at the end of the season played with the Brooklyn Federals is to play this year with the Chicago Federals. This announcement was made today after he had visited Charles Weegman. Brown will go south with the Chicago Federals on their training trip.

LOCAL MAN HAD ATTACK ACUTE INDIGESTION

Daniel Burnett, 2610 Savannah St., is Elated Over His Discovery of How to Get Well.

Herbal Lax-a-Tone is going to repeat its success in Fort Wayne the same as it has done in other cities. Here in Fort Wayne are people that are being cured every day.

Daniel Burnett says: Five years ago I had an attack of acute indigestion, which was so severe I lost consciousness and since then I have been getting worse all the time, my tongue was coated and I had a bad breath with severe pains across my chest, and in the back and right through the heart. I saw Herbal Lax-a-Tone advertised and gave it a trial and can honestly say it is a wonderful preparation and can endorse it. My wife has tried it and has become a Lax-a-Tone booster.

If you have indigestion, sallow skin, headaches, gas, bloating, coated tongue, get dizzy spells, sour stomach, constipation and an all tired out feeling, try Herbal Lax-a-Tone.

The Lax-a-Tone man is at Dreier Drug Co., 526 Calhoun street, where he is demonstrating this remedy. Mail orders solicited.—Adv.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

PARENTS AFTER POOL ROOMS.

Huntington, Ind., March 4.—A crusade against the use of tobacco by boys and against pool rooms that permit minors to resort in them has been decided upon by the Parent-Teacher association of this city. At a meeting of the association in the auditorium of the Huntington high school the following resolution, introduced by Mrs. J. W. Caswell, was adopted: "Be it Resolved: That a committee of three be appointed to interview the proprietors of pool rooms in reference to allowing boys to assemble and smoke in their rooms, in order to bring about a condition in which the boys will be found habitually places where they will be under the influence that their parents should wish them to be."

DOGS CAUSE HEAVY LOSSES.

Bluffton, Ind., March 4.—Reports just filed with the county auditor by township trustees show that the ravages of dogs caused heavy losses in Wells township during the past year. Jackson township had receipts of $306 from dogs and paid out $304 on account of them. Other townships show the following damages paid: Lancaster, $271.50; Harrison, $421; Union, $109; Chester, $247.55; Liberty, $213.50; Nottingham, $220.83; Jefferson and Rock Creek townships have not filed detailed reports, but there were heavy losses. The dogs killed sheep, chickens, turkeys and geese and did other damage.

LEG CRUSHED UNDER WAGON.

Huntington, Ind., March 4.—A wheel slipped from its axle while Ora Oxley, living a mile north and half mile west of Mt. Ima, was hauling a load of hogs to Andrews. He crawled under the wagon after raising the hub and placing a prop under it. And then the prop slipped out and he was pinned under the wagon, crushing his leg. But for the timely assistance he might have been fatally injured while lying under the wagon helpless from his injuries. He was hurriedly taken to Andrews to a physician's office.

SAYS HEIFER WAS STOLEN.

Warsaw, Ind., March 4.—Claiming that four young men, who are moving to a farm near Warsaw, drove away a young heifer from his home, Ambrose Sinott, living near Rochester, has issued a warrant for the arrest of Ray Torrence, W. H. Kuhn, D. Fall and Rufus Morrison. All the parties are moving with the families on farms near this city and Claypool.

GANG OF YOUNG THIEVES.

Portland, Ind., March 4.—Wayne Witche and Virgil Banning, two mere boys of this city, were arrested last night when found in an alley with three chickens in their possession. When taken in charge the youngsters "peached" on other lads, whom they say are members of an organized gang of youthful thieves.

How To Make the Quickest, Simplest Cough Remedy

Much Better than the Ready-Made Kind and You Save $2. Fully Guaranteed

This home-made cough syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Its promptness, ease and certainty in conquering distressing coughs, chest and throat colds, is really remarkable. You can actually feel it take hold. A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough—relieves even whooping cough quickly. Splendid, too, for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

Put in any drugist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents), pour it in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you—at a cost of only 64 cents—a full pint of better cough syrup than you could buy for $2.50. Takes but a few minutes to prepare. Full directions with Pinex. Tastes good and never spoils.

You will be pleasantly surprised how quickly it loosens dry, hoarse or tight coughs, and heals the inflamed membranes in a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in ginseng, which is so healing to the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, be sure and ask your drugist for "2½ ounces Pinex," and don't accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Columbia City, Ind., March 4.—The $5,000 damage case of Fred Kepford against Heber Flora, a young man residing in the vicinity of Wolf Lake, has been compromised, the father of the defendant agreeing to pay the plaintiff $100. The case was based on an accident that took place at the southwest corner of the public square in this city, Saturday evening, September 13th, 1913. Syracuse, Ind., March 4.—James Brissel, proprietor of the Bristol hotel here, and Susan Scarloss, an employee in the house, were arrested on warrants charging them with keeping a blind tiger and have given bond of $500 each for their appearance. The warrants were sworn out after a raid on the hotel brought to light a dray load of beer, whisky and other alcoholic contraband. Immediately following the raid Brissel and the woman disappeared and it was learned they had bought tickets for Chicago, but they are now believed to be in hiding here. The pair will be tried in the Kosciusko circuit court in Warsaw.

That will make it possible for him to come to Auburn in time to deliver his first regular sermon at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday, April 11. Rev. A. P. Bourns says he is anxious to remain in Lexington until after the wet and dry campaign in that city, which will come to a close on April 6.

All Healed Inside of Ten Days.

Sprague, Wis.—"I have used Cuticura Soap and Ointment with marked success. I had a severe breaking out around my mouth which itched and burned causing me to scratch. That caused it to spread all over my face and it broke out in little blisters then got rough. It nearly set me crazy some days."

"I had been using other remedies without success until I got a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap and the first two applications gave me great relief. I used the Cuticura Soap to bathe with and Cuticura Ointment right afterwards. I kept on using them until they removed all traces of the breaking out. Inside of ten days it was all healed up." THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalm 27:1-14.

1 The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.

3 Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear; though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.

4 One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to inquire in his temple.

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion; in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me; he shall set me up upon a rock.

6 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord.

7 Hear, O Lord, when I cry with my voice; have mercy also upon me, and answer me.

8 When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, Lord, will I seek.

9 Hide not thy face far from me; put not thy servant away in anger; thou hast been my help; leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.

10 When my father and my mother forsake me, then the Lord will take me up.

11 Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies.

12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies; for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.

13 I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.

14 Wait on the Lord; be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart; wait, I say, on the Lord.

Two Years of Wilson.

It is precisely two years since Woodrow Wilson became president of the United States, and half the presidential term for which he was elected in 1912, is ended, and both friends and foes of the administration will turn with much interest to a review of its accomplishments. Important congressional legislation enacted during these two years is summarized by a Washington writer as follows:

1. Revision of the tariff.
2. The creation of a new banking and currency system.
3. The establishment of a trade commission, which is to have supervision over all corporations engaging in interstate trade, and the enactment of important amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law.
4. The repeal of legislation enacted by the preceding congress providing for free Panama canal tolls for ships engaged in the American coastwise trade.
5. Authorization for the president to locate, construct and operate a railroad system in the territory of Alaska.
6. Legislation encouraging foreign-built ships to take out American registry.
7. The establishment of a war risk insurance bureau in the treasury department.
8. The levying of a war revenue tax made necessary by the European conflict.

It will be readily agreed that during these two years the president has had more knotty problems to solve than has any other executive since civil war days. His burden has been a tremendous one, and the ordinary man would doubtless have broken down under its strain months ago. Of his personal accomplishments the most notable have been the driving of the special interest lobby from the national capital and the keeping of the United States from war, both in the Mexican embroilment and in the still more delicate European situation. There has, in fact, scarcely been a moment since he has occupied the presidential chair when it was not necessary to move carefully in order to avoid war dangers that beset the country. His has been the master hand that has thus far piloted the country safely. Doubtless even the president himself is disappointed in the fact that foreign conditions have operated against a fair test of the tariff and other constructive legislation that has been enacted. It is certain, however, that there has been a constant augmentation of public confidence in the president's sincerity, his patriotism and his devotion to the people who have signally honored him and who unwaveringly trust him.

It is gratifying to observe that the new federal law controlling the sale and administration of narcotic drugs is commanding wholesome respect. Still, we are forced to sympathize with the patient in the care of a Northern Indiana dentist while the latter awaited a reply to the following telegram which he sent to the revenue collector at Indianapolis: "Patient with toothache awaiting extraction; what shall I do?" The dentist had registered for the administration of narcotics, but had not received his official permit, and he clearly didn't propose to take any chances. To complete the incident it may be added that the revenue office wired in reply: "Extract the tooth and keep a record."

President Heilbroner, of the Central Baseball league, has succeeded in patching up peace in that organization. His accomplishment in this instance moves The Sentinel to suggest that when the powers are casting an eye about for a diplomat who might mollify the warring nations and bring about a cessation of hostilities in the arena of war, the sagacity of this modest Fort Wayne man be not overlooked.

Three conventions of ice men are to be held in Indianapolis next week. And can you blame the ice man for getting ready to do a bit of celebrating? The coal man, having enjoyed a rather long reign of supremacy, is about to turn the general public over to the tender mercies of the ice merchant with the lean and hungry look.

SOUTH BEND TO HAVE SPRING FASHION SHOW

Novel Event to Be Staged by Merchants There Next Week.

South Bend, Ind., March 4.—The greatest event of its kind ever undertaken in this part of the central west will be South Bend's first spring fashion week March 9 to 13 inclusive. It may seem rather curious to most people that the affair fostered by South Bend's daily newspapers, but that is the fact and the newspapers are being supported in it by the big, live merchants of the city.

The affair promises to bring thousands of visitors to the city; men and women who have never participated in a spring fashion week and who desire to see what an interesting and what an instructive event it can be made. Electric railways will give reduced rates while steam roads will run trains that will make reaching South Bend an easy matter.

The event will open next Tuesday evening. Early in the evening the central business district will be kept in almost total darkness. Lantern boys will walk the streets carrying lanterns to give an ancient effect. On a signal lights will be turned on and curtains of store display windows will drop. Fireworks will be displayed and in all this brilliant people will see the most gorgeously decorated store windows ever shown in this section. Miss South Bend, impersonated by a charming and attractive young woman whose name is being kept secret until time to display it in brilliant letters that night, will pass through the streets in an automobile accompanied by a band. After the grand opening theaters and cafes will be ready for guests.

On Wednesday morning stores will open for business and continue their displays until and including Saturday night. The street and building decorations will be beautiful while store interiors will in some instances approach to gorgeousness. Living models will display wonderful gowns and the latest in men's clothes, jewelry, shoes, furniture, etc., will be shown.

LILLIAN BELL'S CHATS WITH ENGAGED GIRLS. ENGAGED TO A PERFECT MAN?

Lillian Bell

The very first thing girls must count on, after marriage, is anxiety.

You'll get it, in one form or another, for no one, except the utterly callous, ever escapes.

Either you will be anxious about money, or your husband's health or his bad habits, or when the children begin to come, you will know the deadly anxiety with which every woman pays for the privilege of becoming a mother—the anxiety over her children's health.

A sick baby sometimes runs the price a girl pays for marriage, into the millions.

I do not mean for a girl to pick flaws in her lover or to be on the lookout for somebody who might suit her better. I would never advise any girl to look for trouble.

But if he has irritating personal habits, why did you not discover them before you put him to the expense of getting a ring?

If you don't mind cigars, but you simply can't stand a pipe, think of it now. He will not give it up, even for you, although he may pretend to. He smokes it now wherever you are not around, and, no matter what he says, he expects to smoke it when you are married, regardless of the potteries and lace curtains.

You may be very pretty and attractive, but you do not compare to the beauty and fragrance of a man's favorite pipe.

No think! Every broken engagement means just one more mistake cauculed.

Yet few girls can resist getting engaged.

It would be a waste of words to give the same advice to a girl who contemplated accepting a man, but after she has done it—said the fatal "yes" which has wrecked so many men's happiness—when the newness had worn off the ring and the surprise of the whole thing has somewhat dulled in her mind, then I would advise her to break her engagement—if she can.

Does that sound brutal, frivolous, unprincipled?

It is none of the three.

No girl with a brain ever entered into an engagement without a few doubts as to the wisdom of her decision.

Why?

Because perfect men do not exist, and if they did, nobody with any self-respect would marry them and get talked about for having done a freak act.

Think what the neighbors could do to you, if you had married the one perfect man, while theirs were—

But I need go no further.

Nobody ever heard of one, so why bother?

Therefore every girl engaged to an imperfect man has something to worry over.

But so many influences are at work in the average girl's life, urging her to marry, that she does not listen too intently to the still, small voice of caution, which bids her pause and think ere it is too late.

It is a hideous thing—this pressure, conscious and unconscious—which is brought to bear on girls, teaching them whether fitted for it or not to look forward to marriage as the ultimate of all things.

Many a girl does not want to marry. Many a girl is not fitted physically or mentally, to marry.

Yet what happens?

All her sisters and friends marry. She hears talk of her own marriage.

It is taken for granted that everybody is going to marry. Nobody is exempt.

THESE PRETTY PARTY FROCKS MANY PRETTY GIRLS WILL WEAR.

"Springtime" is the name of the gown shown at the right. It's designed for the Easter season and the colors of spring are reproduced in the orchid satin and floral trimmings, as well as in the corsage of orchids.

Tiny pink rose buds are used to outline the double triangular design at the right front, and the left front of the slightly draped skirt. The low-cut bodice is an artistic arrangement of gold-threaded lace brought into a fan-shaped drapery at the right. From this drapery falls a broad strand of brocade lace finished with a fringe of cut steel and jet.

At the left is shown a charming frock for "party" wear made of white tulle with an odd little overskirt made in double apron effect topping a satin underskirt ruffled with white chiffon and the ruffles give the skirt the flare which every skirt must have this spring. The bodice is of satin with seailops ruffled just below the bust line and a wide girde of chiffon. The shoulder sleeves are also of chiffon.

Presenting a cast of thirty well known metropolitan stars, headed by the noted actor of juvenile parts—William Elliot, the Latin comedy, of Philadelphia, has filmed in six brilliant reels the famous comedy of Winchell Smith's—"The Fortune Hunter."

The story tells of a young prodigal who—after making a failure of his college career and early business life, is driven to ask for aid from his old college chum, Kellogg, now a successful business man. Kellogg sends Duncan away to a small rural village to reconstruct his shattered young life, and it is in this dreamy little country town that Duncan builds anew. He becomes one of the prominent business men of the town and later marries an adorable little country girl, who has worshipped him through all his trials and tribulations.

AT THE NEW PALACE

The superb acoustic properties of the New Palace theater are a constant source of wonder to Miss Doree, whose Imperial Grand Opera company is singing an arrangement of operatic airs at the theater this week. Miss Doree last night slipped out to the orchestra floor to listen from that point to the singing of "Cavalleria Rusticana," and after the curtain had dropped she turned to B. H. Barnett and said, "No wonder they like us in Fort Wayne. One hears perfectly even back here under both the balcony and the entresol loges. The acoustics are superior to many of

DON'T WORRY ABOUT SNUB NOSE—DRESS YOUR HAIR TO SUIT IT.

Irene Estelle Hough

"I studied the effect of my hair on my profile."

It's all very well to look the world straight in the face, but remember that the world often takes a side glance at you—so make the most of your profile.

The profile as any artist will tell is more important than the front view of the face, for the sparkle of the eyes, the arch of the brows often redeem irregular features, but the eye sheds none of its luster on the profile; the side view of your face depends entirely on the regularity of your features for its charm.

Therefore, study your profile; study the shape of your nose, the curve of your mouth, the line of your cheek and the mold of your chin. You cannot change these features or remodel them, but you can make them seem less irregular—if they happen to lack perfection of form.

Profile study has not been neglected by Miss Irene Hough, the most beautiful telephone girl in the country, and as her photograph shows the side view of her face is charming.

"They used to say I was snub-nosed when I was a little girl in school," Miss Hough said. "My nose is rather snub, I know, but when my hair was pulled down over my head in pigtail my nose looked positively 'puggy.' Well, I couldn't make my nose over, but I did study it. I studied the effect of certain hair arrangements on it. I discovered that if I piled my hair rather high so that it made a slanting line to my nose the nose seemed a little longer and a good deal more delicate, and my profile was greatly improved."

WATKINS GETS MORE DATA FOR REPORT

Canal Surveyors Are Served With Notice to Quit on April 1.

Before completing his report on the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne & Chicago canal, Capt. L. H. Watkins is making a final trip over both the northern and southern routes. He is familiarizing himself with every detail of the survey that he may be able to make a more intelligent report. This will require several days.

Several of the surveyors who have been working on the job have received notice that after April 1 their services will no longer be needed.

Much depends upon the report which Captain Watkins will make to the army board. If it is inadequate in any detail it may be that the canal will never be constructed, but this is not to be expected. The survey has required months and months of hard work and it is not thought anything has been overlooked. Fully six weeks will be required to get the report in proper shape for the army board.

Six Brass Beds in our South Court Street show window, this week, one each at $15, $17.50, $20, $22.50 and two at $30, which we have marked at only two-thirds of their value. These prices only given while our great sale lasts. Foster's. Sale ends Saturday, March 13.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire in this manner to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in the death of our daughter, Lorretta.

SHAKES HAND OF MAN WHO STOLE HIS WIFE

Indianapolis, March 4.—Frank Davis, an employe in a grocery store at Louisville, Ky., and Anthony Reiber, also of Louisville, shook hands in juvenile court yesterday afternoon, although their presence there was due to Davis' running away with Mrs. Reiber and living with her here as her husband for several days preceding their arrest. Reiber appeared in court as a witness against Davis and Mrs. Reiber, who were found guilty of contributing to the neglect of Mrs. Reiber's daughter by a former marriage.

Judge Lahr sentenced Davis to six months in the workhouse and the woman to six months in the woman's prison. Before leaving the court room Davis walked up to Reiber, extended his hand and smilingly remarked, "Well, I'm glad it's all over." Reiber said he left his wife because of Davis' intrusion in his home.

Woman Takes Blame.

That the case is being made the subject of a "white slave" investigation at Louisville was indicated by the testimony in juvenile court. Witnesses said the government is investigating Mrs. Reiber, however, did not seem to fear any such investigation. She admitted the accusations made against her.

"It is all my fault," she testified. "I asked him (Davis) to run away with me. He feared to, as he did not want to get into trouble with my husband or anybody. I was anxious to get away because I understood the authorities were going to take my little girl from me."

C. E. Flowers, of Indianapolis, special agent for the Ocean Accident and Guaranty corporation, was a business visitor in Fort Wayne Thursday.

COL. D. N. FOSTER ADDS $250 TO MISSION FUND

Rev. Dr. Lyon and G. H. Van Arnam Aid in Reaching $9,000 Mark.

A. G. Barry and Rev. J. A. Nipper, of the committee of four appointed to get subscriptions for $15,000, the amount needed to purchase and remodel the Old Arlington hotel, worked Wednesday and were successful in getting enough subscriptions so that now three-fifths of the amount has been donated. Col. D. N. Foster added $250 to the fund and Dr. Milford H. Lyon, the evangelist who conducted the tabernacle services in this city and George H. Van Arnam each gave $100.

Dr. Lyon, with his clerk, sent a letter which is highly complimentary to Mr. Nipper and those in charge of the mission campaign.

Rev. J. A. Nipper announces that the contract for the erection of the addition to the rear of the building, which will be four stories high and thirty-three feet wide and eleven feet long, has been let to A. Grotholman, the contractor of this city. A contract was also signed with the Fort Wayne Foundry and Machine company for the iron work in the building.

Sam Small, Who is Coming on Sunday

HON. SAM W. SMALL.

Hon. Sam W. Small, of Georgia, evangelist, lecturer, and reformer, whose fame has for many years been nationwide, will be heard in Fort Wayne Sunday afternoon at the Wayne Street M. E. church. Mr. Small is appearing under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon league of Indiana.

ADDRESSES YOUNG PEOPLE.

Montville Flowers Speaks to Large Audience on "Hamlet."

Montville Flowers, one of the best known lecturers of today, addressed a large audience of young people at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ on "Hamlet." The affair was another of the numbers on the lecture course given under the auspices of the Young Man's Forward Congress of this city.

The speaker took up the Shakespearean play from the dramatic standpoint and emphasized that the dramatist was not only a literary genius, but a prophet. Others of the congress were well pleased with the outcome and all are of the opinion that Mr. Flowers is one of the most interesting speakers they have heard.

Attendance is Increasing.

A larger attendance than the night before, which had been the week-night record attendance was had last night at the evangelistic service at the East Creighton Avenue Church of Christ. Two were added to the membership of the church by statement, and two were baptized. The women of the aid society of the church will hold a special meeting tonight at the close of the evening service. The prayer meeting tomorrow will be held at 1:30 in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Theodore Weaver, 2114 Thomas street, and will be conducted by Mrs. George W. Eller.

The Sunday school has appointed Miss M. Keller and Mrs. Harry E. Linger to represent the school at the Huntington (Indiana) elementary conference, March 5-7. Tonight the pastor, Rev. E. H. Clifford will speak on "Baptism," the subject having been changed from Friday night.

Six Respond to the Call.

One of the largest audiences since the opening of the follow up meetings at the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ was present Wednesday evening and six responded to the invitation. Evangelist Dorris spoke on "Christ's Attitude to the Church," in which he conclusively showed the Old and New Testament both were concentrated in the personality of Christ and that Jesus laid Himself down as the founder of the church. Hence in the church one finds God, Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit, pardon and eternal life. Thursday evening the evangelist will speak on "Heartfelt Religion."

Fifteen Are Immersed.

Fifteen persons were immersed at the services Wednesday evening at the First Baptist church, two were received orally. The Amos class was present in a body and seven of its members were baptized. The hard evangelist, Thompson, will deliver a sermon on "The Prodigal Son" Thursday evening and one-half of the sermon will be illustrated with harp accompaniments. Mrs. Ed Ritchie's bible class will attend in a body and Friday evening will be B. Y. P. U. night. On Saturday evening special will be given and the evangelist will speak on "The Devil's Railroad."

Will Hold a Booster Day.

The Ladies' society of the Plymouth Congregational church has planned to have a "Booster Day," to be held Friday, March 5, at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. H. Medsker, 445 East Berry street. The hostess will be assisted by Mesdames William Lawson, W. H. Knoll, E. DuBois, D. J. Cox, F. Geier, J. E. Kretzing, Julia Saylor, A. T. Holmes, Kanaga, Gur Bassett, John Sinclair, O. H. English, F. Benoy, Jonas Asstry. A program has been arranged.

Many Attend Reception.

Over five hundred people attended the reception given at the First M. E. church Wednesday evening for the new members who have recently united with the church. It is estimated that over 125 new members were in attendance. Following the services conducted by the pastor the members retired to the Sunday school room where a general social time was held. Schiatter's orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

Will Lead the Music.

Clinton Willard will lead the music at the men's mass meeting next Sunday afternoon at the Wayne Street Methodist church. The men who sang in the tabernacle chorus are requested to attend.

tend. The tabernacle song books will be used. This meeting is in interest of national prohibition and will be addressed by Hon. Sam Small, the southern evangelist.

Underwood, corner Broadway and Maple avenue. Evangelist Victor Dorris will give a talk. Mrs. Fannie Hemrick and Mrs. Walter Harris will assist the hostess in serving.

LIFE TERM FOR MAN WHO STABBED WIFE

Greenfield, Ind., March 4.—Perry Lynam, of Indianapolis, who stabbed his wife to death in Indianapolis last summer, made his escape on a motorcycle and later was captured at Peoria, Ill. Lynam was charged with first degree murder in the bill returned by the Marion county grand jury and the case was sent to Hancock county for trial. The trial had been set for March 15. The prisoner had been held here several days ago and has been confined in jail.

His attorneys, T. J. Reinhard and John Kingsbury, of Indianapolis, came here today and after a conference Lynam went before the court and entered his plea. The court sentenced him to life imprisonment at the state prison, Lynam being 30 years old.

BOARD MAY REVERSE ON LILLIE STREET

Remonstrance Now Believed Insufficient to Kill Paving Project.

It is probable that at Thursday night's meeting of the board of works that body will take steps to reconsider its action rescinding procedures on the resolution for paving Lillie street. In examining the remonstrance on which the procedure was rescinded it has been found that there were errors affecting the validity of two signatures. If it turns out that these signatures are not valid the remonstrance would be insufficient to confirm its resolution for paving that street. The remonstrance was sufficient on its face by a very narrow margin.

WILL RECEIVE SEWER BIDS.

Board of Works to Have Letting for $22,000 Northside Drain.

The board of works will receive bids Thursday night for the construction of over two miles of sewers that are to be constructed in the north side this year to drain territory bounded on the north by Pfeiffer avenue, on the east by Wells street, on the south by Archer avenue and on the west by Sherman street, and passing through the grounds of St. Vincent's Catholic orphan's home. The estimated cost of the work is $22,000. The board is looking for spirited bidding, as five proposals are expected to be submitted. The sewer will give service to a wide area of territory that is much in need of drainage.

INSPECTOR SCHOTT RESIGNS.

Board of Health Will Appoint Man Who is Veterinarian.

The board of health will appoint a veterinary surgeon to succeed Eugene A. Schott, who has resigned his position as chief inspector and chemist in the Fort Wayne health department. No appointment will be made, however, until the board has received some applications for the place and has had time to consider them. Inspector Schott resigned his place in order to devote his time wholly to his private business. He has had charge of dairy and meat inspection and of the chemical work in the city laboratory. Dr. J. H. Gilpin, secretary and executive officer of the health department, will attend to such laboratory work as attention to matters of public health entails and the work of making chemical and physical tests in the municipal laboratory, of which Mr. Schott has had charge. will be referred to the board of works, for which such tests are made. The board of health had tentatively planned an ordinance to impose a small license tax on all dealers in edibles to pay the cost of the periodical inspectors and believed that such revenues, aided by a small appropriation for the laboratory work performed for the board of works, would enable the department to employ a veterinarian for the meat and dairy inspection division and at the same time retain Mr. Schott or some other chemist for the laboratory duties. Opposition in the city council to the proposed license plan caused it to be abandoned.

QUARANTINE TO BE STRICTER.

The city board of health, at the request of the Allen County Medical society, has adopted a resolution that will make the quarantine restriction in cases of diphtheria more rigorous. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That the minimum period of quarantine against diphtheria shall be fourteen (14) days. The attending physician can submit cultures from nose and mouth on the fourteenth day. If these cultures be positive, other cultures shall be furnished at intervals of forty-eight hours by the attending physician. In event of negative cultures from nose and throat, a deputy from this department shall take cultures, and in event of these cultures being also negative the patient shall be released from quarantine.

HUNTINGTON FIVE IS NEXT ATTRACTION

Concordia College Has Hard Game Scheduled for Friday Night.

After a week's rest Concordia college will meet the fast Central college five of Huntington in a game of basketball Friday night which promises to be one of the best of the season.

These teams have met in former years when the Concordians have practiced their own way, but this year Central college has been going in great style and expects to make the local collegians hustle all the way.

Although no game was scheduled for last week the Concordians have practiced faithfully every day as they do not wish to take chances of going back. When they go into the game Friday night they ought to be in first class condition. The band will be at the game and will while away the time between halves with a number of selections. The preliminary begins at 8 o'clock and the big go at 9 o'clock. For the preliminary an interesting match has been booked between the Precious Blood Maroons and the Concordia seconds. These teams are probably two of the best junior fives in Fort Wayne. They have met twice this season and each has carried off a victory so that Friday night's game will decide the question of supremacy between them.

WOMEN PAY PRIZE-FIGHTERS $25 EACH FOR BOXING LESSONS—GREAT WAY TO REDUCE, THEY SAY.

Miss Caroline Bauman, professional boxer, who performed for Nikola Greeley-Smith, photographed as she landed a left jab on the jaw of Eddie Toy, the old lightweight, who is her instructor.

Knowing nothing of the fine points of the manly art, I did not realize at once that this poor young chap was hopelessly overmatched with Britton, who, the men alongside me said, is one of the most scientific lightweights now alive.

I did notice that Johnny Reize fought head down like a valiant but unscientific small boy, with much arm-waving and plunging, and that he never landed a blow. And I did observe that Jack Britton seemed to float about him and away from him with the airy grace of a Pavlova and that he landed where, when and as hard as he pleased on his poor, bewildered, bull-headed opponent.

What impressed me most was the amazing swiftness, the startling physical grace of these young fellows.

I had spent the afternoon before at a private dance in Isadora Duncan's school, and the flash of white flesh was everywhere as her bare arms, bare legs, young students surrendered themselves to the silent, visible music of motion.

Yet the girl dancers, as I recalled them, were heavy, cumbersome, almost awkward when compared with these slender boxers in their scratchy red, green and purple sweaters as they flashed in lightning rapidity about the ring.

After the fights were over I talked with Dan Morgan, manager of K. O. Brown, Denver Levisky and several other fighters.

"You wouldn't believe how many applications these boys have from young girls here in New York who want to take boxing lessons," he said. "Some of them have been paid $25 an hour."

Mrs. Marietta Edwards Fayes, who sent out the invitations to the bouts I attended is one of the New York women who have taken up boxing.

"It beats dancing as a reducer," she told me, "and it's the most splendid exercise for increasing the circulation of the blood. I feel twenty years younger since I learned to box. You have no idea how many women in society are learning to box."

At the sport carnival which will be held under the auspices of the Marshall Stillman association on March 4 for the benefit of the unemployed in New York city, two young women—amateurs who have taken lessons from Jack Britton—have promised to box three rounds if they are allowed to appear on the stage masked. I have promised them that I will not give out their names.

ZANESVILLE TEAM TO PLAY TONIGHT

One of the best games of the season is promised when the Zanesville basketball team will again play the St. Paul's Lyceums this evening. The Lyceums were defeated some weeks ago by the Zanesville boys and they are now seeking revenge. The game will be played at St. Paul's basketball court.

The contest will be refereed by Wilts, the Britton official. He will permit no rough play and a clean, fast game is assured. Miller has fully recovered from his recent illness and will be in the game again.

THE FUNNIEST PLAY IN BASEBALL I EVER SAW.

By George Mullin, Veteran Pitcher, formerly of Detroit Tigers.

I believe the funniest thing I ever saw on a baseball field was shortly after I started out in the old Indiana and Illinois League in 1904. There was an umpire named McLoughlin (not Silks) who was a wonder. He used to write letters to himself, telling what a great umpire he was, and he always was recommending players to big league managers and showing the players what he had written. You may imagine how popular he was with us.

One day we were playing in Danville, Ill., and McLoughlin appeared on the field in his uniform and a linen duster. He asked him the reason for the duster and he said he was going to revolutionize umpiring and the game itself and that he never again would miss a decision on a close play. He was vague about how the linen duster was going to accomplish these things, but felt certain of it.

In the sixth inning the score was a tie, Danville at bat, one out and a runner on third when the batter hit one down to short and the man on third started home. McLoughlin was behind the pitcher and when the runner started home Mac started after him, gaining at every jump, with his duster flapping out behind. The runner slid to the plate and Mac slid after him, and after sliding across the plate, yelled: "You're out," although the runner was safe a mile.

George Mullin

The spectacle of an umpire in a linen duster sliding home was too much for the crowd and the last we ever saw of McLoughlin was when he disappeared down the street, his duster flapping behind him and the mob chasing him toward town.

HOME CAPITAL TO FATHER BILIKENS

Completing Plans for Buying Fort Wayne Club from Varnell.

With his brand new eight-club Central circuit a tangible surety, President Louis Heilbroner is now putting renewed energy into the work of completing the plans for home ownership of the Fort Wayne club. It is believed that by the end of this week the organization will be perfected and that Claude H. Varnell will have turned over the franchise and players of the Fort Wayne outfit to a company of Fort Wayne men. For eight years the local club has been the property of Mr. Varnell and he has endeared himself to the Fort Wayne fans by his devotion to the interests of the game here. But he wants to retire and devote himself to the new Wheeling club that has been brought into the reorganized Central and it is also the desire of President Heilbroner and the owners of other clubs in the circuit that Fort Wayne be controlled by the home folks.

Mr. Varnell will remain in the city for a day or two prepared to make the transfer as soon as matters are all set for that event. It is settled that if Owen Varnell sells to the local interests Bude Myers will be the Biliken manager. He has been in the city for some time working with President Heilbroner and Bude Myers have entered a number of good men in the local interests and when the season opens here it will be upon solid financial and personal backing that ought to give the sport a genuine revival in Fort Wayne.

TERRE HAUTE WILL STAY IN CENTRAL

Integrity of Circuit is Maintained in Conference Here.

Terre Haute will remain in the Central league baseball this year and not in the Three-I brand. That was settled at the conference of the nabobs of the Central in the Anthony hotel Wednesday, when Messrs. Tom and Webb Beggs and John Crawford, here as the envoy of the Down Roberts town, agreed to hold fast and as a guarantee of good faith posted the necessary $2,000 guarantee.

This consummation of hard and unceasing labors that began last November and ended only in the concave Wednesday, caused President Louis Heilbroner to release a sigh of relief that sounded like a gas explosion. There was uncertainty and misgiving until the Terre Haute owners came clear across the table with the good fellowship stuff and gave pledge of word and cash that the Terre Haute combination would stay on the Central reservation. It saved the league from further worry and hard times, for Terre Haute out it meant crucifixion today propositions on the map. So that the Central is enlarged and intact instead of facing the necessity to go out and find two more eligible towns.

All eight cities of the expanded reorganized circuit have posted their guarantees and there remains now as the only preliminary to opening the season the adoption of a schedule. Three schedules were submitted to the conference Wednesday, but were promptly rejected as being impracticable, and the meeting did not have time to thrash out a satisfactory time card. President Heilbroner was authorized to appoint a schedule committee with power to frame and adopt a schedule, and he designated Elmer Redville, Dayton, Harry Stahlhofer, of Evansville, and Tom O'Connor, of Erie, to meet with him in West Baden next Wednesday to perform that task. It is expected that the season will open April 21 or 22. The length of the season has not been determined, but will approximate 140 games.

All the clubs were represented in the meeting, the following being there: C. H. Varnell, Fort Wayne; Elmer Redville, Dayton; Bill Essick, Grand Rapids; Harry Stahlhofer, Evansville; Tom Beggs, Webb City; and John Crawford, Terre Haute; Pop Schriver, Wheeling; Messrs. Blount, Morgan and McKee, Youngstown, and Messrs. O'Connor and O'Neal, Erie.

CONGRESS AT WORK ACTUALLY 637 DAYS

Has Been in Almost Continuous Session for Past Two Years.

Washington, March 4.—The Sixty-third congress, first under complete domination of the democratic party since 1895, ended today at noon.

It had been in almost continuous session since President Wilson's inauguration two years ago. Beginning with an extra session called by the president April 7, 1913, the congress has worked actually 637 days.

Much important legislation was accomplished, but much contemplated, some of it hard pressed by the president and party leaders, was left undone. It is the present intention of the president and his advisers to give congress a rest. Rather than force an extra session, they would leave the remainder of the administration's constructive aspirations to a new congress next winter, which, although under democratic control, will have a greatly reduced majority in the house.

Important Enactments.

Foremost in the enactments of the Sixty-third congress were:

The Underwood-Simmons tariff act, with the income tax, which replaced the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

The federal reserve act, reorganizing the currency system.

Anti-trust laws to supplement the Sherman act, including the Clayton law and federal trade commission act, the former providing for punishment of individuals who violate business regulations and the latter establishing a government institution to aid in keeping business within the law.

Repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption for American coast-wise shipping.

Act directing the building at a cost of $35,000,000 of a government railroad to the mineral fields of Alaska.

Act to regulate cotton exchanges and to penalize dealings in purely speculative cotton future sales.

A special internal revenue tax, commonly called the "war tax."

War Risk Insurance.

A government war risk insurance bureau to insure American ships against the hazards of war, and an act providing for the transfer of foreign-owned or built ships to American registry.

Of those measures which failed of enactment or could not be considered for lack of time, the following are regarded by democratic leaders as paramount:

Bill for government purchase or charter of transoceanic ships for the establishment of an American merchant marine which encountered the most stubborn filibuster in the history of the senate, created an important movement in the democratic ranks and held a general legislation for weeks of the last session.

The immigration bill, including a literacy test for admission of aliens, which passed both houses, was vetoed by President Wilson and failed by a narrow margin to pass the house on a motion to overturn the veto.

Conservation measures urged by the president to provide a new system for leasing of water power sites and a leasing system to open the mineral resources of the country.

Regulation of Securities.

Regulation by the interstate commerce commission of the issue of railroad securities, originally a part of the administration's anti-trust program.

Rural credits legislation contemplating the establishment of a system of farm mortgage loan banks, persistently urged throughout the congress.

In addition to the foregoing, scores of general legislative bills covering a wide range of subjects died with the end of the congress, among them, measures for federal road improvement, general waterway development, reorganization of the civil service, to prohibit importation of convict-made goods, and several measures for reorganization of the army.

The last session of the congress was notable, too, for the failure of two great issues, national prohibition and woman suffrage. Proposed constitutional amendments precipitated two of the most exciting legislative battles in the history of the house of representatives, both measures failing to receive a necessary two-thirds vote.

"If you would make our national defenses strong, protect our women workers," is the plea Mrs. Mae Romig Miller, of South Bend, Ind., makes to the Indiana legislature in support of the bill for a nine-hour-a-day and fifty-hour-a-week limit to work for women.

Mrs. Miller is called Indiana's "Militant mother." She has done much to improve the conditions under which women work.

Foreign Relations.

Foreign relations of the nation were constantly to the fore almost from the beginning of the congress. The Mexican situation required close attention from the outset, as has the European war. Throughout the session the president and the senate foreign relations committee were in frequent conferences and much was done to restrain unusual demonstrations which might have disturbed international tranquility. Early in the session general arbitration treaties with several great foreign powers were renewed for five-year periods and twenty-six peace commission treaties providing for investigation of international disputes before resort to arms were negotiated and ratified. A treaty to enforce the regulations adopted by the London Safety-at-Sea conference was ratified last December, but with an amendment making reservations which came too late for other powers to consider, thus preventing enforcement of the convention. A treaty with Nicaragua providing for acquisition of the Nicaraguan canal route and naval stations for $3,000,000 was left unratified by the senate and the pending treaty with Colombia directing payment of $25,000,000 for the Panama canal strip was held in by the foreign relations committee.

The Closing Session.

The closing session of the congress was almost wholly devoted to appropriation bills, the ship purchase bill, and a few general measures.

Aside from appropriations about the only important legislative enactments included the creation of the coast guard by consolidation of the life-saving and revenue cutter services; reclassification of grades in the diplomatic and consular service; requirement of registration of and imposing special taxes upon all dealers, manufacturers or importers of opium, or its derivatives, and the creation of the Rocky Mountain National park in Colorado.

Much debate on the condition of national defenses enlivened the closing session. Proposals for special investigation of the preparedness of the nation for war all failed. House naval and military committees, however, conducted public hearings on the subject in connection with the military supply bills.

The congress also was marked by differences between President Wilson and some democratic senators over patronage; a spirited contest over confirmation of nominees for the federal reserve board; two successful filibusters—one in the summer session against the rivers and harbors appropriation bill and the other the fight of republicans and democratic allies against the ship purchase bill; an unsuccessful effort in the senate to establish a cloture rule to limit prolonged debate; institution of a special inquiry into outside influences exerted against the ship purchase bill; a general lobby investigation which extended for many months, and proposals of an inquiry into senatorial campaign contributions.

With the fall of the gavel today many senators and congressmen long national figures passed into private life. Senators who retire are Root of New York; Burton, Ohio; Perkins, California; Thornton, Louisiana; Rristow, Kansas; Stephenson, Wisconsin; Crawford, South Dakota; Camden, Kentucky, and White of Alabama. Representative Underwood leaves the house to go to the senate. Scores of representatives in house give way to new members.

ONE GIVES $5,000 BAIL.

Gustave Cook Indicted in Passport Fraud, Gets Liberty.

New York, March 4.—Gustave Cook, indicted with Richard Peter Stegler and Richard Madden as conspirators against the government in obtaining an American passport falsely, was released last night in $5,000 bail. Stegler and Madden are still in custody, being unable to furnish $15,000 bail each. Cook's bail was reduced from $15,000 to $5,000 last Monday on the plea of ill health made by his attorney.

LOCAL TEACHERS ARE INTERESTED IN BILL

Many Telegrams Are Sent Urging Passage of Pension Measure.

Many telegrams were sent to Indianapolis Wednesday by Fort Wayne teachers urging the passage of the bill to provide for an Indiana public school teachers' retirement fund. Messages also were sent by both Superintendent J. N. Study, of the city schools, and D. O. McComb, of the county schools. Besides the telegrams sent Wednesday many letters have been forwarded to both the representatives and senators in the state legislature urging them to vote in favor of the proposed measure.

The bill provides for assessments on teachers' salaries and other ways of raising a fund out of which teachers may be pensioned. It provides for benefits to disabled teachers after twenty-five years' service and for voluntary retirement after thirty-five years' service on an annuity of $800 and after forty years on an annuity of $700.

The measure was prepared by a special committee appointed by the joint legislative committee of the State Teachers' association, County Superintendents' association, State Association of Town and City Superintendents and the High School Teachers' association.

CLERICAL FORCE OF PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY'S FREIGHT OFFICE TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO.

If the entire clerical force at the Pennsylvania freight office twenty-seven years ago is represented in the above picture, as claimed, time has wrought a most wonderful change in the personnel of the office. Only two men whose portraits are in the group are now employees of the company. They are

Charles M. Jones, cashier of the company, and Fred M. Miller, one of the rate clerks. There are sixteen faces in the group shown above and of the number seven are dead. The boy shown in the foreground of the picture was a messenger in the department twenty-seven years ago, but his name and present whereabouts could not be located. The others in the group, commencing with the first row, reading from left to right, are Fred M. Miller, the present rate clerk; Charles Rossington, deceased; James Wells, deceased; N. H. Foster, now traveling salesman for the Wayne Express company; Merck Baldwin, now in New York; F. J. Lindeman, now connected with a bank in Toledo; Charles Goudrich, whereabouts unknown, and William Scherer, deceased, for many years janitor of the office. The same departments today have nearly fifty names on the pay rolls.

was in celebration of his sixty-third birthday anniversary and the participants were men employed at the Pennsylvania offices and the Electric works. They walked to the home of Colonel Gates in a body and when admitted to his presence, Floyd D. C. Golden, the toastmaster and spokesman of the party, presented him with a magnificent luminous copy of Senator Cullom's book, "Fifty Years in Public Life." Colonel Gates is a student and spends most of his spare hours in reading books and the higher grade of magazines and he expressed pleasure in being the owner of this valuable book. The evening was passed in social games and conversation, followed by a most delicious luncheon. Seated at the table were Colonel Gates, Floyd D. C. Golden, W. S. Rayburn, Theodore

Fortified Tires Now in the Light

The supreme test of a tire is to hold top place—the place in the sun—and for years. Goodyear tires have done that. Long they have led, both in sales and prestige.

Men expect much of the top place tire. They look for a super-tire in it. Any seeming fault, due to mishap or misuse, becomes a defect in this glare.

Isn't best average service, as proved by Goodyear supremacy, the right way to judge a tire? Lower Prices On February 1 Goodyear made the third big price reduction in two years. The three total 45%. Yet the tires are constantly bettered. In five costly ways—each exclusive to Goodyear—our Fortified Tires excel any other tire built. And each is a great trouble-saver. They mean for you tire content. They mean most for your money, because of our matchless output. For your own sake, try them. The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

WITH FOLK BETWEEN THE FIRING LINES

Scenes More Dramatic Than Ever Dreamed by Fiction Writers.

(By H. J. Phillips.)

Paris, Feb. 23.—Staff correspondence by mail.—Under the edge of the news which seeps back from the front are stories so wildly dramatic that hardly, in normal times, would a fiction writer or playwright dare incorporate them in his plot.

There is the very human tale of a scrap of paper told by a lieutenant on three days' furlough from the trenches. Every soldier knows the way letters for the front have of going astray. One of the finest fighting men in this lieutenant's company, a devil-may-care sort of man by the name of Legrand, was eating his heart out in secret at the absence of all news from home.

He was found in tears one morning, and confessed that unless a bullet soon put an end to his career there would be nothing else for him to do but to blow out his brains. He could stand the suspense no longer.

With that touch of feeling that makes all men brothers at the front his comrades set to work to find a letter that might meet the case.

No matter to whom they may write women all say the same in these war times, and a letter for one man can easily serve for almost every soldier in his trench.

As luck had it Legrand was named Joan, and a dozen Joans had letters that might do. When it came to the point, though, none of them wanted to give them up, but in the end a soldier named Audrioux consented to "lend" his.

Legrand's joy was a sight to behold when the missive reached him. He had daily been expecting to learn that he was a father, and the news that "the little one is doing fine" made him highly pleased.

Just then the Germans sprang a surprise attack upon the line, and Legrand had no more time to bestow upon his precious letter.

Never had he fought so brilliantly, and it was while leading a charge against the enemy's quick-firers that he fell, pierced by a score of shots.

The French could not push home their advantage, and were glad enough to get back into the shelter of their own trench. They dared not even try to save the wounded lying helpless between the rival lines.

At nightfall Audrioux was caught stealing from the trench. Shame-facedly he explained that as Legrand was dead there was no harm in trying to find him in order to get his letter back.

He would not listen to any advice to wait until things had quieted down. Off he went, and a couple of days later the men found him stretched stiff and stark by the body of Legrand.

Both were clutching tightly at the blood-stained letter. Legrand had taken it from his breast for one last kiss before he died, and Audrioux had stooped to grasp it at the moment that a bullet laid him low.

"Le Telegraphe" prints the story of a woman fleeing under fire to Paris from a village near La Bassée.

One of her three children was killed by a spent bullet, and the distracted mother, to save her life and that of the other children, had to hurry on and leave the dead body of her twelve-year-old daughter by the roadside.

The woman's husband was called out at the beginning of the war, and she was left with the care of her three children. Late in the war came so close to her little home that she was forced to risk the dangers of the journey, and seek some place of greater safety.

She set out with her children early one morning. If it was dangerous to stay, it seemed just then even more dangerous to go. A terrible fusillade was going on all round. As the woman herself describes the journey she and her children were in the home of death, where the bullets were falling like rain.

"The journey was one long torture," she said. "We were trembling with fear, but we had to push on, and then one of my children—my little girl—was struck by a German bullet. She died in my arms.

"I was distracted. I could not stay by her body for fear that the other children would be killed. I had to make them hurry on—to leave the body of my little one lying there by the roadside. It was my Calvary."

"So we passed on in spite of the bullets and the danger, expecting death at every moment. But the body of my little girl—is it still lying there by the roadside?"

Among the hundreds of refugees who had to leave Ypres as the German invasion advanced was a Belgian lady of eighty-three. Her only relative, a son, was with the Belgian army, and she had to find refuge alone with friends in France.

The shock of leaving a town to which she was connected by the close ties that a long life had woven brought on an illness that was increased by the news of the destruction by the Germans of so much with which the old lady had tender association. It was soon clear that her feeble strength was ebbing, and as she felt death consciously draw near she became possessed of one dominating wish; she wanted to die in her old home in ruined Ypres.

The old lady's son in the Belgian army has greatly distinguished himself by his gallantry, and the authorities, when they were asked for the necessary permission for the dying Belgian woman to be taken back to her home in ruined Ypres gave immediate consent.

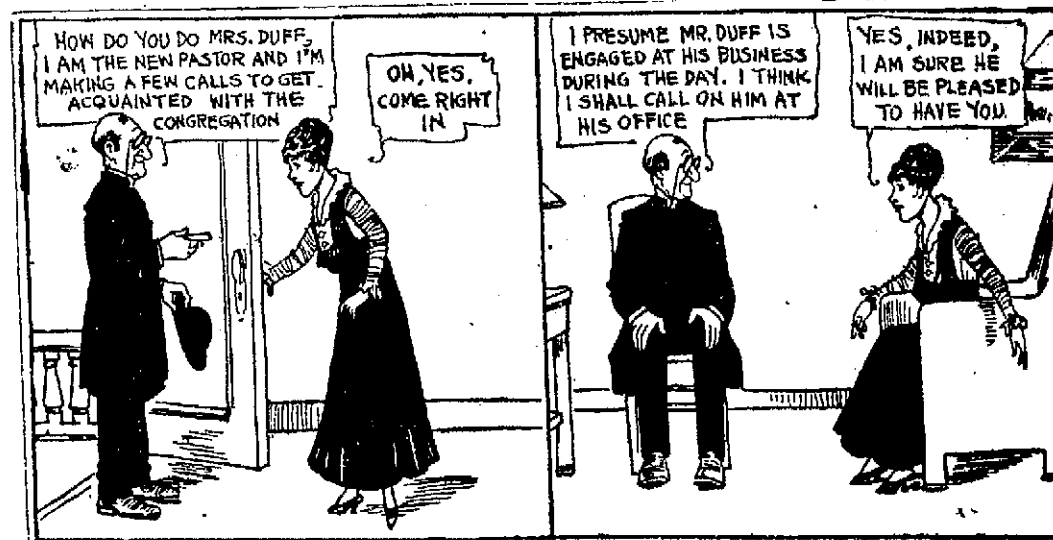

It was an English medical officer in the service of the Belgian army to whom the feeble old lady owed it that she had made this last journey. He had her bed placed in an ambulance car and, with a nurse to attend her during the journey, he drove her herself into Ypres and took her back to her old home. And there, attended by one or two friends who have returned to Ypres, she attained her wish.

Two million fruit trees, occupying between 25,000 and 30,000 acres, mostly irrigated land, are being planted in the various districts of eastern Washington and Oregon, Idaho and western Montana.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 4.—Wheat prices rallied today after a decline at the start. Development of strength resulted from the fact that the seaboard had advanced bids on spot cash delivery and from the absence of any sign that rural offerings were likely to become more free. The opening, which was ½¢ to ¾¢ lower, was followed by a rise to well above last night's level. Corn advanced with wheat. Trade was light. After opening unchanged to ½¢ ¾¢ off, the market scored a moderate advance. Active demand from the east gave independent firmness to oats. Sellers were scarce. Lower quotations for hogs had a depressing effect on provisions. Later, however, the upturn in grain began to tell against the bears.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 4.—Unusual activity in U. S. Steel at a fractional advance was the prominent feature of today's early trading. Market leaders, notably Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific and Pennsylvania, showed some hesitation, but soon moved forward with the general list. Speculators were also conspicuous in the rise. Motor shares adding to recent advances. Activity ceased soon after the opening and prices fell back, some of the leaders, including Canadian Pacific, Reading and Annamated Copper, declining to below yesterday's close. Southern Railway preferred, which had shown acute weakness recently, was among the few railway issues to register a marked gain. Another gold import from the orient excited interest in foreign exchange circles. Bonds were irregular.

Supporting orders brought a moderate rally from the low level in the final hour. The closing was heavy.

Washington, March 4.—Colonel George W. Goethals was nominated to be a major general today in recognition of his services in building the Panama canal.

Four other nominations for promotions of officers associated with Col. Gorgas, to be major general, medical department; Col. H. F. Hodges and Lieut. Col. Wm. L. Sibley to be brigadier generals of the line; Commander H. H. Rousseau, U. S. N., to be rear admiral.

The bill providing for the promotion extends the thanks of congress to the officers.

J. D. Warren Cashes About

$60 All Told and Gets Away With It.

The police are trying to get their hands on one J. D. Warren, a gentle giant of the age of 30 or thereabouts, and several Fort Wayne business persons hope they will. Warren, who had been about town for some time representing himself as the agent of a tree-spraying device, made three checks for a total of $40 look like regular money to Joseph Stahl, of the Randall hotel bar, and he got the cash for them all in one day. One check was for $10 and the other two for $15 each. All were drawn on a bank at Montgomery, Mich. While busy in this line Warren thought himself of the word of a new suit of toggery and he conferred the favor of his patronage on the Dukes Clothing company on Calhoun street. A check for $14 procured his fresh outfit of scenery at that shop. He asked that his old suit be nicely packed for him and it was. He said he would call later for it, but did not say how much later and it looks as though it might be a long time for Michigan sleuths are panting on the trail of Warren for forgery jobs at Jackson and at Hillsdale. If they get to him before the Fort Wayne police do, Mr. Warren will probably make a considerable sojourn in the Wolverine state. From all accounts Warren is identical with one J. B. Harper, who floated a forged check at the Mosher hotel in Hillsdale, in which city he represented himself as a traveling salesman for the firm of S. Bash and company in Fort Wayne.

SOME FINE TEAM WORK

Lanning and Kenny Keep Themselves in Brotherly Touch.

As an example of practical team work John Kenny and Fred Lanning are hard to head at any stage. The pair drifted into Fort Wayne a few days ago, got soured and then got arrested. They told Judge Kerr in the city court that they were a pair of stack-painters doing partnership business and hailed from nowhere in particular, but were en route to North Manchester, where they had a job awaiting them. They were detained a day or two for investigation and released. Two days ago Kenny was dragged in drunk and went over for eleven days. Lanning didn't know where he was but did know how to find him so got drunk and ran himself into a police man. He appeared in the city court Thursday morning and drew fifteen days. The partners are reunited.

Perry Murtiff, who heaved himself and his source aboard a locomotive in the Wabash railway yards, Wednesday evening, and refused to climb down when the engineer and fireman told him to, was booked for drunkenness and continued until Saturday.

Steve Colby, charged with drunkenness, was given another continuance and will be held until March 6. He is under investigation.

Nelson Johnson, one of the gang of vags picked from the hobo camp in the east end of the city Tuesday evening was turned loose.

Dr. S. M. Bartlett, South Bend, Ind.

Dear Doctor:—For seven months before coming to your office I suffered with rheumatism in my arms and legs. It grew so bad that I was forced to lay off from my work for eight weeks. Then I improved some and was able to return to my work, but could only work one or two days a week.

At last I saw so many accounts in the daily papers of the good you were doing the people, that I decided to give you a trial. At times my condition was so bad that I could only be about the house by crawling on my hands and knees.

I am pleased to say that after treating with you a short time I am now able to work every day, and am having no trouble whatever.

I should be glad to have you make this letter public, as I am very thankful for what you have done for me.

Jackie Pauwels, 529 1/2 Kosciuszko St.

If you are suffering from rheumatism it should be a comfort to you to know that the progress of your case can be arrested before you reach that hopeless stage of chronic invalidism which will deprive you of that share of enjoyment and pleasure in life which is justly yours.

In order to demonstrate to Fort Wayne people what the Inter-State system will do in curing chronic diseases of long standing the specialists have made a grand free offer of free examination, free consultation and free treatment (medicine excepted) to all who call before March 15. The office is open every week day and evenings, also Sunday forenoon. —Adv.

CRAWLED ON HIS HANDS AND KNEES

South Bend Man's Condition Such He Could Not Work for Eight Weeks—Crawled About on His Hands and Knees.

Could one contemplate a more pitiful sight than a strong man, shorn of his manly strength and vigor, unable to stand erect, wrecked and crippled physically, due to the great modern uric acid plague termed rheumatism? Those who are now suffering from acute and even mild forms of rheumatism should stop and consider the countless number of human beings who are today incurable cripples, whose cases have become hopeless, and whose days mean to them night but cycles of pain and suffering, and then ask themselves the question, does it pay for me to neglect my own case?

The following letter received by Dr. Bartlett, the specialist in charge of the Inter-State Doctors' Fort Wayne Institute, located on the second floor at 205 West Berry street, should impress all rheumatic sufferers with the masterful manner in which this specialist administers treatment in this class of cases:
